

CHICAGO POLICE ALLEGE MASTER MIND IS HELD IN $2,000,000 ROBBERY

New Developments Mark Investigation of Werner Brother Warehouse Robbery—Recover Large Sums in Gems and Securities.

Chicago, Nov. 23.—Recovery of $25,000 in gems and $6,000 in war savings stamps from what police termed "one of the eight secret homes of Dr. Spencer Brown," and the announcement, following a new arrest, that the evidence would be ready for the grand jury today, marked developments in the investigation of the Werner Brothers Warehouse robbery.

A new list issued by the Pinkerton detective agency in the bold coup of Ova-acetylene bandits a month ago brought estimates of the total loot to $2,000,000 with nearly a million in jewels missing in addition to the million and a quarter in negotiable securities warehouse officials admitted were taken.

"Dr. Brown, arrested on a mysterious telephone tip, has admitted to police he was a 'master mind' but denied all connection with the gigantic robbery.

The war savings stamps held by police were seized in a raid on one of Dr. Brown's town homes in Antioch, where evidence was discovered leading to the recovery from a safety deposit vault in an Antioch bank of a $25,000 pearl necklace, concealed in a box of complexion powder.

Brown has boasted to police of his "secret homes," protection from invasion by trick entrances similar to those police found in the Antioch residence. Some of the stamps recovered were enclosed in an envelope marked "these can be changed to go," while others discolored by the steaming with which they had been removed from the cards to which they ordinarily are affixed were marked "N. G."

Frank Miller, latest arrest in the investigation, was being closely questioned to the grand jury.

It was believed that Thor Wassburg and Graham McGill, bond salesman, arrested early in the inquiry, would be among those to testify.

NEW YORK NOT TO HAVE DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL MEETING

Washington, Nov. 23.—With New York City practically eliminated from serious consideration, other cities which had retired from the contest are in the open again fighting for the 1924 Democratic national convention.

The struggle will be intensified after the Republican national committee on Dec. 11 formally announces the selection of Chicago for the Republican convention. A Republican sub-committee already has approved and selection of Chicago, and the announcement following the meeting of full committee is regarded as a foregone conclusion.

St. Louis, Louisville, Denver and Atlanta were in the field for the Democratic convention when New York entered the contest with the declaration that a fund of $500,000 would be raised in order to obtain the meeting. This declaration frightened off the other four competitors and also killed interest in Cleveland and Washington, both of which had made inquiries as to the requirements asked of the convention city. New York, however, in the opinion of Democratic leaders, has failed to make good. The $500,000 fund dropped by stages to $250,000, with the additional restriction that the money would be available only for the actual expenses of the convention. This restriction, which included a provision for the handling of the fund by a New York committee, made practically certain the elimination of New York from the contest.

SEVERE EARTHQUAKE SHAKES TOKIO AND VICINITY FRIDAY

Tokio, Nov. 23.—The most severe earthquake since the disastrous tremor of September, shook Tokio and vicinity about 11:30 this morning, causing considerable excitement in the city of Tokio.

Some small buildings were slightly damaged by today's quake.

The streets were filled within a few minutes with frightened Japanese and foreigners.

Reports emanating from Motokyo, religious sect, prophesying another disastrous earthquake is coming tomorrow, added generally to the apprehension of the populace despite the reassuring statements of Nakamura, head of the central metropolitan bureau. Dr. Nakamura declared positively that no more great earthquakes such as those which raved this city and Yokohama may be expected at this time.

TAX REDUCTION TO BE AID TO FARMER

Pittsburgh, Nov. 23.—Reduction in taxation will continue to keep the country prosperous, in the opinion of Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon, who is in Pittsburgh. "A reduction of taxes will work toward the improvement of the condition of the farmer," said Secretary Mellon. "Lower taxation will help to lower costs. The railroads will obtain lower money rates with which to make improvements and carry on their business, with the result that the burden taken off will work out to the benefit of the ultimate consumer. However, as far as my suggestions are concerned, regarding the proposed reduction in income, that matter is now in the hands of the ways and means committee, and it no doubt will be touched upon by President Coolidge in his forthcoming message to congress."

SNAP SHOTS

At Philadelphia Mrs. Rose Campbell, 32, was found dead with a bullet wound in her body. Her husband, Lafayette Campbell, suffering from a wound, said his wife died the shooting.

Jurors at Greensburg, Pa., acquitted two women charged with first degree murders. As a result, Mrs. Amelia Boyer and Miss Maria Chiswick, 18, are free. Mrs. Boyer was charged with shooting her husband following a separation, and Miss Chiswick with slaying her sweetheart in her home.

Alonso Savage, negro "voodoo doctor," was found guilty at Pittsburgh of first degree murder by a jury trying him for the slaying of Elsie Barthel, nurse.

Four-year-old Betty Harris shot and killed her father, Walter C. Harris, sportsman, banker and clubman, Duluth, Minn. Harris had been cleaning his rifle and playfully permitted the child to pull the trigger.

COREY'S WIFE GETS DIVORCE

Paris, Nov. 23.—Mrs. William Ellis Corey, wife of the well known American steel manufacturer, was granted a divorce here. Mrs. Corey's maiden name was Mabel Gilman. She was an actress. She charged her husband with desertion. They had been married in New York on May 14, 1907. The plaintiff was Corey's second wife.

SEARCH CONTINUES FOR MISSING FARMER: BLACKMAIL CHARGE FILED

Medina, Nov. 23.—The Ku Klux Klan has volunteered to assist in the hunt for Fred Thompson, Sharon Center farmer, who has been missing from home for 25 days. A Mr. Freese, avowed official of the Medina Klan, announced today that the "secret service organization" or his society would do everything to assist local authorities to clear up the mystery. Freese is the klanman mentioned in the signed confession made yesterday by Mrs. Lucile Renner, in which she admitted indiscretions with Thompson and mentioned a dozen other women of this community as having been too friendly with the missing man.

The confession exonerated the klan of sending notes to Thompson and his wife, warning him to leave the county on pain of severe punishment for his conduct. These missives were signed "K. K. K." but Mrs. Renner now admits having prepared some of them herself, with the aid of a public stenographer, in order to frighten Thompson into leaving and thus freeing her of having his baneful influence.

County authorities have clamped the lid down on the investigation and decline to say why the blackmail charge was placed against the woman and appear reticent about disclosing any developments in the case.

It is still firmly believed by some officials close to the investigation that Thompson has been slain, either by some one jealous of his attention to the numerous women mentioned in Mrs. Renner's confession or to prevent his exposing his alleged victims or doing them harm, as Mrs. Renner said he threatened to do to her, if her friendliness with him ever became public.

LAUNCH DRIVE AGAINST LEADERS OF NATION'S BOOTLEG INDUSTRY

Washington, Nov. 23.—The department of justice revealed for the first time that a force of the best detectives in America has worked its way into the inner-councils of the bootleg ring and will shortly land the leaders into United States courts.

It was this same force that succeeded in securing 126 indictments in Savannah, and from that point wormed its way into the confidence of the men said to be responsible for 80 per cent of dry law violations, it was declared.

The record of their exploits and the ramifications of the illegal traffic, as disclosed by William J. Burns, chief of the bureau of investigation, shows an adventure that dwarfs anything conceived in fiction. It also makes known for the first time that this latest blow at the rum traffic was conducted independently of the prohibition bureau.

"For the last six months the men who are rounding up the bootleg ring have had their lives in their hands," said Mr. Burns. "Most of them are right now in places where they would be killed if their identity should become known. It is one thing to detect a bootlegger from the outside. That is safe. But it is an extremely dangerous thing to work from the inside."

"Our agents made their advent into the business as laborers. Before long they were concerned in deliveries. They made the trip frequently and met the persons to whom the liquor was shipped. Other agents soon were working for these agents. In this way it was not many months before they were right in the heart of things. They learned that men in American cities and not foreigners were financing the great smuggling game."

"Much of this evidence was put before the grand jury in Savannah, and that is one reason why the names contained in the indictments can not now be made public. The men are in other cities and we wish to serve warrants on them before they have a chance to get out of the country."

WALTON INDICTED BY GRAND JURY CHARGED WITH FELONY IN STOPPING LEGISLATURE

Court House, Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 23.—J. C. Walton, deposed governor of Oklahoma was indicted by the Oklahoma grand jury today. Eight true bills were returned against him.

One indictment charged felony, that of stopping the Oklahoma Legislature on September 26. The others were misdemeanors, charging padding of state payrolls, and one was of intimidating officers.

Dr. A. E. Davenport, state health commissioner and T. P. Edwards, the former governor's chauffeur, also were indicted and charged with a felony. The charges against the latter two were diverting state funds through Edwards' being an employee of the State Health Department and on the governor's staff as a major in the National Guard, without rendering any service to the state.

The former governor with three of his counsel was on hand to make bond as soon as the true bills were recorded with the district court.

WOMAN AWARDED $50,000

Cleveland, Nov. 23.—Mrs. Anna M. Neiswiter, 46, of North Olmstead, was awarded a $50,000 verdict against the Cleveland, Southwestern and Columbus Railway company by Judge Frank C. Phillips. Mrs. Neiswiter alleged that June 19, 1920, while in the basement of her house she came in contact with a wire connecting a toy telegraph set with which the wire of the house had been crossed by the company's wire carrying 2,300 volts. Mrs. Neiswiter was rendered unconscious for eight hours.

DEATON NAMED AS PROBER

Columbus, Nov. 23.—Attorney General Crabbe announced the appointment of former State Senator Sherman S. Deaton, Urbana, as special counsel for the state in conducting an investigation of alleged laxity of law enforcement in Steubenville and Jefferson County. Deaton served in a similar capacity for the state in an investigation some months ago of the Dr. Walker murder at Alliance.

STRESEMANN DEMANDS VOTE OF CONFIDENCE; FACES DEFEAT

HOUSE PROGRESSIVES WILL LAY PLANS IN BATTLE FOR CONTROL

Washington, Nov. 23.—The strategic plan of the Progressive group in the House of Representatives for their forthcoming fight with the regular Republican organization will be drawn up at a conference to be held here next week in advance of the Republican caucus, scheduled for December 1, it was learned today.

Discussing the plans of the progressive today, Representative John M. Nelson of Wisconsin, confirmed the reports that the organization of the House for business will be blocked until concessions have been made to the Progressives through support of Representatives Henry Allen Cooper, of Wisconsin, for speaker. This is expected to prevent

LEGISLATURE OF OKLAHOMA FAVORS ANTI-KLAN BILL

Oklahoma City, Nov. 23.—Arguments tore to threads the anti-Ku Klux Klan bill, sponsored by the senate and house joint committee when it was presented in the senate. The debate developed, however, that there is strong sentiment for such legislation. The objection to the measure was that it would be unfair to organizations other than the klan. The klan will be unmasked, that's certain. Every member of the legislature advocated that. But the fight is over the question of whether or not the membership lists shall be certified and recorded periodically by county and state officials. Recording means endless expense. It is believed that the bill will be so amended as to require a county and state record of lodge officials, who must keep complete lists of membership, which shall be available whenever demanded by proper authorities.

Senator Norris, Republican, member of the senate judiciary committee, who before coming to congress was for seven years a judge of the Nebraska state courts, declared: "The almost unlimited power of federal judges to hold in contempt persons against whom they may take offense because of some word or act displeasing to the court, ought to be curbed. In fact, I am strongly for curbing the broad powers of the federal courts in a great many respects. I think congress should take up this question and I am certain it will be done."

Senator Walsh, Democrat of Montana, also a member of the senate judiciary committee, declared he would favor legislation by congress to require trial by jury of alleged contempt not committed in the presence of the court.

MAY CURB POWER OF FEDERAL JUSTICES

Washington, Nov. 23.—The 60-day jail sentence for contempt of court imposed against Comptroller Charles L. Craig of New York city and affirmed Monday by the United States supreme court, will result in a demand at the coming session of congress for legislation to curb the power of federal judges in contempt cases.

Senator Norris, Republican, member of the senate judiciary committee, who before coming to congress was for seven years a judge of the Nebraska state courts, declared: "The almost unlimited power of federal judges to hold in contempt persons against whom they may take offense because of some word or act displeasing to the court, ought to be curbed. In fact, I am strongly for curbing the broad powers of the federal courts in a great many respects. I think congress should take up this question and I am certain it will be done."

Senator Walsh, Democrat of Montana, also a member of the senate judiciary committee, declared he would favor legislation by congress to require trial by jury of alleged contempt not committed in the presence of the court.

NORTHWEST NOT TO SUPPORT OLD LINE CANDIDATES, BELIEF

Washington, Nov. 23.—Candidates for the presidency running on either the Republican or Democratic tickets need not look for any support from voters in the Farmer-Labor movement in states of the northwest.

On the other hand entrance into a Republican or Democratic primary might have had in receiving any Farmer-Labor votes.

This is the latest word from the seat of the Farmer-Labor insurrection, brought to the capital by Senator Henrik Shipstead, one of the two senators chosen by the Farmer-Labor party in Minnesota, Magnus Johnson being the other.

Shipstead declared that the voters who quit the old parties to go into the Farmer-Labor movement are so enamored of their new association that they simply will not go into a Republican or Democratic primary. He opined that not even Senator Robert M. LaFollette, who has a large following among the Farmer-Labor supporters, could carry Minnesota as a Republican presidential candidate. As a third party candidate, however, he could sweep the state," Shipstead said. "Throughout the entire northwest there is a strong sentiment in favor of putting a third party candidate in the field."

CHANCELLOR IS ON DEFENSIVE IN REICHSTAG

Fresh Disorders Reported In Ruhr—Many Killed And Wounded

Berlin, Nov. 23.—The German Reichstag this afternoon rejected a resolution expressing confidence in the government of Chancellor Gustav Stresemann. The vote was: For the motion 155 votes. Against the motion 230 votes. Abstainers 7.

Berlin, Nov. 23.—Chancellor Gustav Stresemann, appeared before the Reichstag today with a demand for a clean cut vote of confidence in his government. Vote on the Nationalists motion expressing a lack of confidence in the Stresemann cabinet, had been put over from yesterday until today.

"Three resolutions have now been introduced and they are misleading; I demand a full and clear declaration whether or not the Reichstag has confidence in this government," said the chancellor.

Stresemann said he refused to retain office by virtue of "the trick of political arithmetic."

The three resolutions or "votes" as he termed them, were introduced by the nationalists, communists and socialists.

The German peoples party, the Centrists and the Democrats issued a joint resolution expressing confidence in the ministry and the chancellor demanded an immediate vote upon this resolution.

When the session opened it appeared that the Stresemann government was facing defeat.

As the deputies assembled, word was received of fresh disorders in the Ruhr in which many persons were killed and wounded.

Berlin, Nov. 23.—"Germany's internal situation is hopeless. I say this in all candor. I see no way in which Germany's desolate situation can even in a small degree be improved."

This was the keynote of Chancellor Stresemann's speech in the reichstag where in "open battle" he defended his administration.

The chancellor dwelt on the internal strife, discord and disunion. "There is hardly a country in the world so cleft with socialistic and political conflicts as the German reich," he said. He emphasized the possibility of any government accomplishing anything constructive in such internal combinations, in addition to France's pressure from without.

"Swan song" was the expression heard on the floor of the reichstag when Stresemann rose to speak against the expected resolutions for a vote of lack of confidence. The chancellor was on the defensive throughout and developed no new constructive thought or idea. He was very frank in saying that he had none, and defied anyone else to formulate a policy that promised to bring Germany out of the present economic and political chaos.

Touching newspaper reports about foreign loans and credits, Stresemann declared that but one group of foreign financiers had approached the government to offer credit, and that offer was through the head of the league of German agrarian interests, and was for $250,000,000 for the new gold currency bank.

The chancellor spoke for two hours, in the course of which he even attacked the right wing of his own party. "It took five whole years to realize that we lost the war," said Stresemann, "and now the time has come to liquidate." He declared that the French policy "favors the development of extremism in Germany," and accused France of breaking her promise regarding the resumption of negotiations with Germany within 24 hours after Germany abandoned passive resistance in the Ruhr.

Stresemann declared that he "takes full responsibility for the central government's policy toward Bavaria," and stated that "constitutional conditions will be restored in Bavaria at any cost." He added that the government will not cancel the state military emergency in the reich until stable conditions have been restored.

SLUGGED AND ROBBED

Cincinnati, Nov. 23.—Two youthful bandits, one armed with a pistol and the other with a blackjack, beat and robbed Dr. Louis Grear at his office in Loveland, near this city. With their victim stunned, the bandits tore a diamond shirt valued at $300 from his shirt, stole his watch, a wallet containing about $200, a leather case filled with surgical instruments and escaped.

ADDRESSES XENIA STUDENTS ON DRY LAW ENFORCEMENT

"The crusade today is for the milk bottle against the beer bottle, for that, greatest of all institutions, the American Home, against the drinking places," said Miss Georgia Hopley of Washington, D. C., in addressing the pupils of the Central High School and East High School Thursday.

Miss Hopley is the only woman under Federal Prohibition Commissioner Haynes employed by the Government in this department of work. She is from the Constructive Information Bureau at Washington and has been taking advantage of American Education week to present the work which has been done with Prohibition only partially enforced and what can and must be done to insure further benefits through the enforcement of the Prohibition Amendment.

"The important feature of the enforcement of the Prohibition Amendment today said Miss Hopley, 'is the education of the people. The whole campaign is one of education and it is up to all of us to teach both the children and the adults what are the issues involved in this question. It is the duty of those of us who do believe in law and order versus lawlessness to state our case so clearly and convincingly that a new generation will grow up with a clear understanding of the real shame of the conditions as they exist today. The way to get rid of the darkness is to turn on the light and education is light. The anti-dote for anti-prohibition is facts, administered in homeopathic doses.'

Among the homeopathic doses administered by Miss Hopley was the statement that drink has filled more graves than all the wars. That while $8,250,000 is the sum allotted for the work of the Federal Prohibition Unit drink formerly cost the nation $2,000,000,000 annually which would have built 325,600 homes at $3,800 each was three times the amount spent on schools and twice the value of all the church property.

Liquor appetites were being created while today they are being cured. There has been outlawed 177,790 saloons, 1,090 breweries and 236 distilleries. There was formerly manufactured annually 19½ million gallons of real beer while today there is manufactured 1¼ million gallons of near beer. Connie Mack, the great base ball magnate has said all the umpires together haven't put out of the game as many men as old man booze.

During the recent Harding campaign Miss Hopley was in charge of the publicity work of the State with headquarters at Columbus at which time Miss Hallie Q. Brown of Wilberforce, was associated at headquarters in the capacity as state organizer and speaker.

Miss Hopley visited Wilberforce while here and will return early in the year to address the students.

LABOR IN COAL BUSINESS

Cleveland, Nov. 23.—Labor is in the coal business in Cleveland, furnishing coal from the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers' Coal River Collieries company mines in West Virginia, delivered to consumers here at $7.50 a ton. The price is about $3 below the price asked by private coal retailers in Cleveland, according to Albert F. Coyle, secretary.

PARDON SOUGHT FOR CRAIG

Washington, Nov. 23.—A movement to secure a presidential pardon for Charles L. Craig, New York comptroller, under sentence for contempt, was launched at the white house and department of justice by Edward P. Doyle, who claimed to be an attorney working in the interest of Mr. Craig. Mr. Doyle put the case directly up to President Coolidge.

A WOMAN'S WAY

"I tried for four months to get my wife to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which I know had helped a friend of mine who also suffered from stomach trouble. She insisted her case was different. I finally had to bribe her with a new dress. The first dose produced remarkable results, clearing up her complexion and restoring her appetite. She can now eat things she hadn't been able to for many years." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Sold by Sayre and Hemphill and druggists everywhere.

Beauty for Girls

Youth for women—Let me show you how
By Edna Wallace Hopper

For 40 years I have a famous beauty. Now, at the age of 62, I am the most talked-about woman in America as an example of perennial youth.

The reason is this: My mother and I, many years ago, searched the world to find the best beauty helps in existence. They multiplied my beauty, and I became the rage. They have kept my beauty to a grand old age.

I am convinced that these helps can bring like results to millions. And I have decided to enable all to get them.

EASY, SIMPLE WAYS

I do about what you do. But the difference is that I employ the best helps science knows.

You use clay, perhaps. Any woman who omits it does herself injustice. But you use crude and muddy clays which I quit years ago. I use a modern clay, white, refined and dainty. A clay perfected by 20 years of scientific study.

Mine I call my White Youth Clay. It is fully ten times as efficient as ordinary clays. The new complexion that it brings amazes and delights. Many women in 30 minutes seem to drop ten years.

Clay brings rosy, clear complexions. It takes out the causes of blackheads and blemishes. It firms the skin, combats all lines and wrinkles. The women who employ it stand out in every crowd.

But my White Youth Clay is a superclay—the last word in facial clays. It brings multiplied results. The cost is 50 cents and $1.

THE SUPREME CREAMS

You use creams, no doubt. I spent a fortune to secure the best creams in existence.

My Youth Cream is a cold cream, containing both lemon and strawberry. Also all the best that science knows to foster and feed the skin texture.

I apply it after my clay. Also as a night cream. Also daytimes as a powder base. It is ever-present, to whiten, soften and preserve my skin. I have never known another cream which brought any like results.

I clean my skin with my Facial Youth. That is a liquid cleanser which I found long ago in France. Now leading beauty experts everywhere employ it.

It contains no animal, no vegetable fat. The skin cannot absorb it. But it enters the pores and cleans the skin to the depths. Nothing else in all the world can clean the skin as this does.

My Facial Youth sells for 75 cents. The identical formula by great beauty experts, is everywhere sold at $3.

FOR BEAUTIFUL HAIR

My hair is my greatest glory. It is thick and lustrous, and grows finer every year. Never have I known a falling hair, dandruff or gray hair.

This is due to my Hair Youth, which France perfected for me. I apply it with an eye dropper, directly to the scalp. It keeps the scalp clean and the hair roots stimulated. I have brought beautiful hair to countless friends by giving them this method. It costs 50 cents and $1.

All druggists and toilet counters supply the beauty helps I use. Go try them. Each will bring you rich rewards. I am very glad to enable you to get them. Edna Wallace Hopper, Business address, Waukesha, Wis.

O. E. S. THIMBLE CLUB ENTERTAINED THURSDAY

A series of Thanksgiving contests was enjoyed by forty members of Aldora Chapter, No. 262, Order of the Eastern Star Thimble Club, at the home of Mrs. A. E. Faulker on West Second Street, Thursday afternoon. Prizes were awarded the winner in the various contests. A delicious refreshments course was served, and an informal social time enjoyed.

Mrs. Faulker's assistants were Mrs. Frank Shelley, Mrs. H. E. Schmidt, Mrs. Emma Eley, Mrs. Carl Knisley, Mrs. Elmer Wood, Mrs. R. A. Tull and Mrs. Frank Wolf and Miss Edna Miller.

AFTERNOON PARTY FOR BRIDE-ELECT

Complimenting Miss Mildred Adams whose marriage to Mr. Phillip Linski, of near Dayton, will be solemnized near Christmas, Mrs. Mildred Foster, entertained at a pretty miscellaneous "shower" at the home of her mother, Mrs. R. E. Corry, in Yellow Springs, Saturday afternoon.

Twenty-four young women were received who presented Miss Adams with many lovely gifts. The afternoon was spent with contests and knotting a comfort for the honor guest. Refreshments were served with attractive appointments.

TO SERVE OYSTER SUPPER

The Royal Neighbors of America, will meet Friday night at 7:30 at the Junior Hall. An oyster supper will be served.

Mrs. Charles Galloway, of Evanston, Illinois, spent Wednesday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Galloway of North Galloway Street. Mrs. Galloway had been spending several days in Cincinnati with her aunt, Miss Sarah Hagar, who is at Dr. Vail's hospital, recovering from an operation, performed or the removal of a cataract on her right eye, recently. Miss Hagar is recovering nicely, but will remain in Cincinnati a week longer.

Mrs. Marshall Barker of Hamilton, spent several days this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Galloway, of North Galloway Street. She is now visiting her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson W. Galloway, of Cedarville.

Miss Lois Purdom of North Galloway Street, is spending a week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Purdom, in Columbus. She will attend the Home Coming Game at the Ohio State University, Saturday.

U. S. Senator S. D. Fess, of Yellow Springs, was the speaker at the noon-day luncheon, Thursday, at the Memorial Hall, Springfield, in connection with the Community Chest Drive, in that City.

Miss Mary Cathryn Bush, of Millersburg, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Alice Clark of Cottage Grove Avenue, for several weeks, has returned home.

NEW LAMP BURNS 94% AIR

Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent air and 6 per cent common kerosene (coal oil.)

The inventor, E. A. Johnson, 609 W. Lake St., Chicago, Ill., is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

IN THE SIXTY YEARS SINCE GETTYSBURG.

Sixty years ago, November 19, Abraham Lincoln made his immortal speech at Gettysburg. There were only twenty-nine lines in the crumpled first manuscript of that address, nine sentences and 250 words.

The listening crowd, close-necked around the platform, was surprised by its shortness. It was given after the long address by Edward Everett, a now-forgotten effort of rolling periods and classical allusions. It is recorded that the thousands who had gathered on Cemetery Hill seemed disappointed in the brief, simple speech of the President.

Yet the Everett address has gone from men's minds, and those 250 simple words of Lincoln stand out in letters of fire against the shadowy background of the War Between the States. They have come to ring more and more powerfully out of those clamorous times. Wherever English is read or spoken, they echo on and on over the world. School children memorize them and statesmen having a faith in humanity ponder them when dangers threaten.

Six decades and a thousand threats to "government of the people, by the people, for the people," have come and gone since Lincoln stood in the pale November sunshine at Gettysburg. Great as it was, the war that was raging then was no more than a skirmish in the long battle for human freedom that stretches back into the ages. Since Gettysburg it has gone on, with democracy now advancing, now retreating and again advancing over the world. Moving unevenly, nevertheless, the line of its advance has gone a long way forward since November 19, 1863.

Autocracy the world over has steadily receded toward the shadows and the dust in the last sixty years. The Romanoffs are gone and their cheap successors, with their shoddy blood-stained tyranny, will follow them. In the long run, however, they may threaten in Europe's present malaise, but the Hapsburgs and Hohenzollerns must go. Bonapartes and Bourbons alike have vanished from the stage of France and the Old World.

The dictators of today? These Lenines and Trotskys of Russia, these Mussolinis of Italy, these Riveras of Spain, are no more than the small dust in the balances of the years. The stars in their courses fight against such as these. So long as men will dedicate themselves as Lincoln dedicated himself and his Nation to "the great task," so long as the world shall "highly resolve" that its dead in the name of freedom "shall not have died in vain," no dictator can last and autocracy cannot for long lift its hateful hand—Public Ledger.

THE TRUTH ABOUT OUR EUROPEAN TRADE.

The cry continues to go up that American prosperity is dependent upon the restoration of normal industrial conditions in Europe, and therefore that it is worth, in dollars and cents, the risk of our own safety to involve ourselves in European political complications in order that we may enlarge our markets abroad. What are the facts?

We are shipping today to Europe from five to sixteen times as much of various kinds of foodstuffs as we did before the war. Europe today takes half our exports, to the total of a billion and a half dollars annually.

Great Britain is exporting only 10 per cent less than before the war, and importing 2 1/2 per cent less. France is exporting and importing more in volume than before the war. Europe is not so bad off financially as our alarmists would have us believe, nor is she losing in her commercial transactions with the United States, since our balance of trade is wiped out by freights, expenditures for foreign travel, remittances of emigrants, exports of capital and other transactions.

There is a steady upward trend in our exports. They are 60 per cent greater than at any time before the war.

The cry that it is necessary for the United States to act as a policeman and banker for Europe is merely a part of the pernicious propaganda put out by the internationalists, some of whom are inspired by sordid and others by visionary motives.

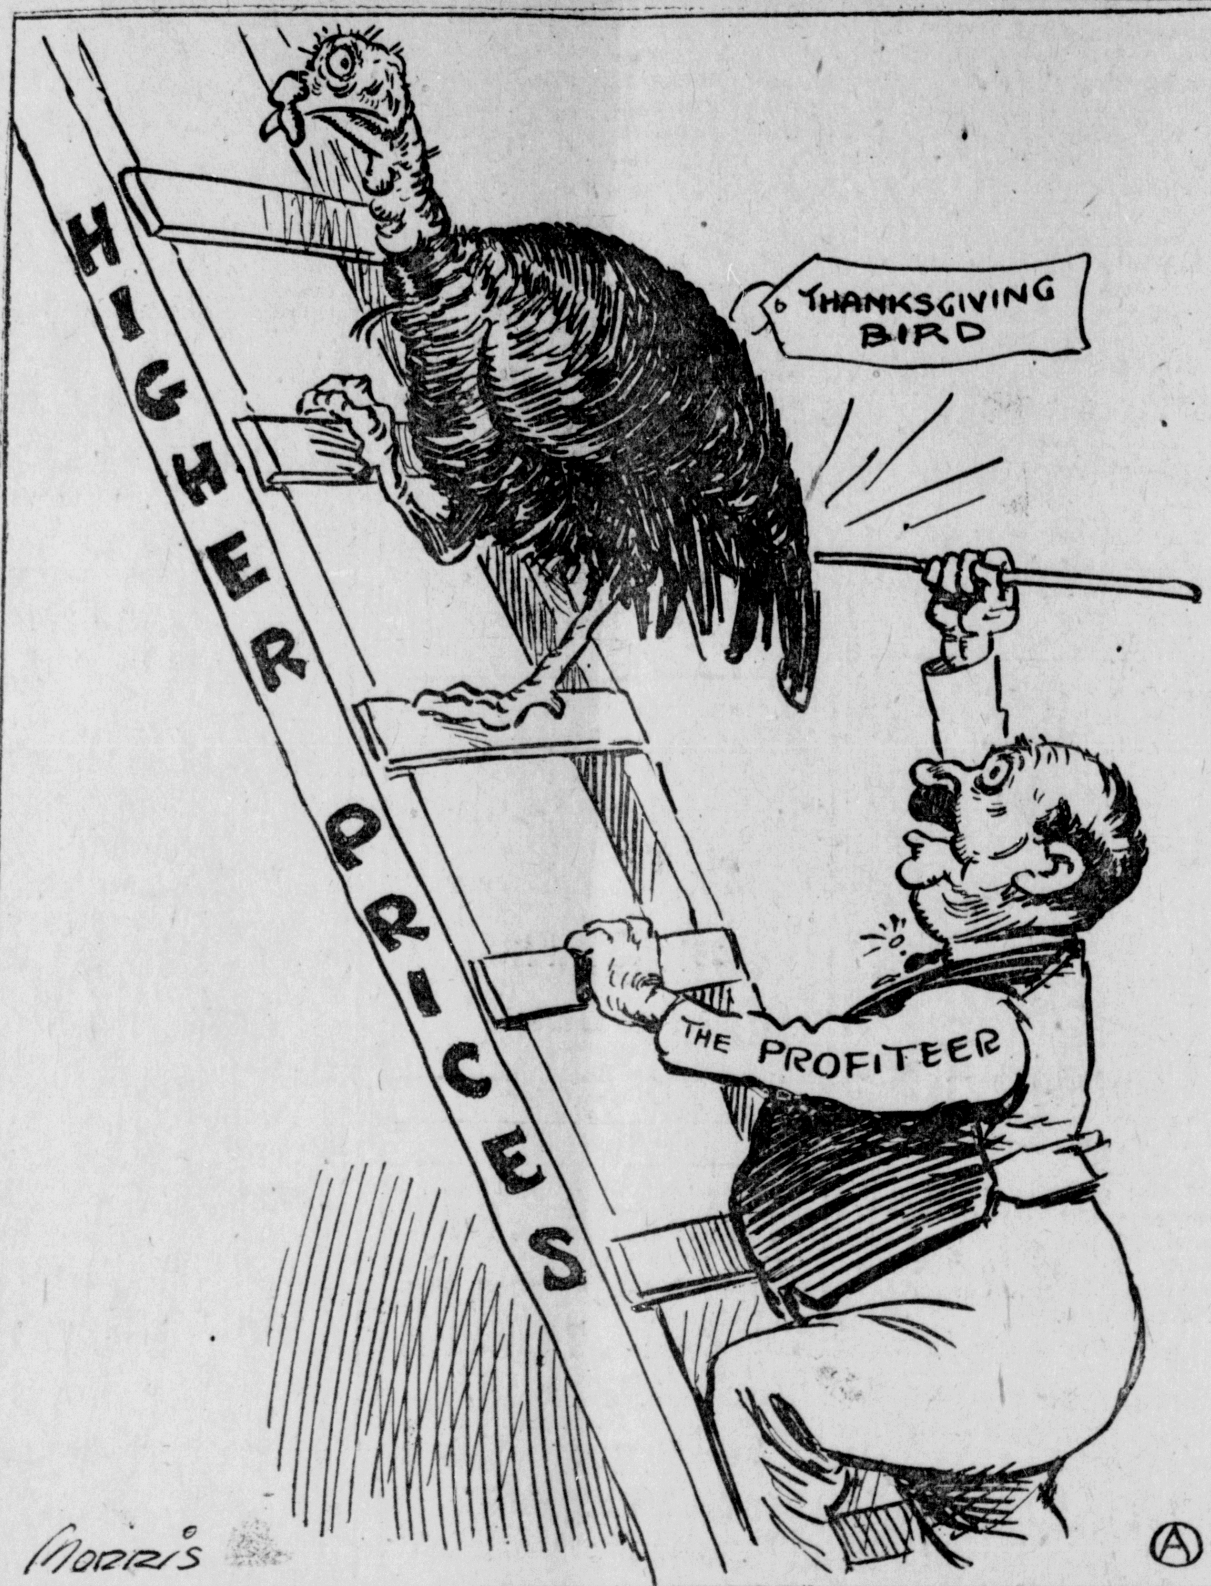

THE MEXICAN ELECTION.

As Mexico enters upon its presidential campaign the Obregon administration definitely puts itself behind the candidacy of General Calles. President Obregon is not content to recommend Calles to the voters, but attacks without mercy the other candidate, Senor de la Huerta, whom he accuses of shameless graft and corruption.

De la Huerta is a former political friend of President Obregon and was for several years secretary of finance in his cabinet. Now it is charged that he has misappropriated several millions of dollars that should have been used to pay off the foreign debt of Mexico, and he is accused of keeping on the public payroll great numbers of men whose only duty was to run the De la Huerta political machine.

The former secretary of finance is not without active and useful friends, who are very angry over the interference of the government in the campaign; and, since Mexican politicians do not always confine themselves to debating public affairs from the platform, there is a chance that the coming campaign will be fought out with arms as well as with ballots.

"GO ON UP THERE!"

1903-- Twenty Years Ago--1923

A delightful musicale was enjoyed at the O. S. and S. O. Home Tuesday when Prof. John H. Weidig the Dayton representative of the Aeolian Company gave a recital by means of the pianola, at which he presided. Mrs. W. H. McGervey sang, accompanied by the pianola. Nearly all of last week agents of the Mormon church were in the East End making a house to house canvass to their faith. The residents near heard of a Mormon preacher and gave "further notice."

Everything seems to be pointing to a fine game for the big football game tomorrow. The barometer says fine weather, both for the players and the crowd.

BIGNESS AND BITTERNESS

I read the other day that bigness and bitterness never went together.

NEW BURLINGTON

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Mitchner had for their guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jones and son, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jones, Herman Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Compton and Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Blair and daughter.

Thomas Harlan of Miamisburg, was the guest of his mother, Mrs. A. H. Harlan a few days the past week.

Frank Blair of Dayton spent several days the past week at his home here.

There are several cases of mumps and scarlet fever in our community.

Rev. Curless and family visited friends at Blanchester the past week.

Mrs. Zimri Haines is ill with an attack of the grip.

Earl, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Waldron, east of town, died Saturday of abscess of the brain and was buried at the cemetery here Monday.

The services were held at the home in charge of Rev. Curless, pastor of the M. E. Church.

The Aid Society of the M. E. Church will meet Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Jennie Davis, near Roxanna.

Mrs. Ervin Blair is confined to her home with mumps.

The Young Married People's class of the M. E. Sabbath School, with well filled baskets, gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Davis, near Roxanna, Sunday Nov. 11. The Davis family will move soon to a farm near Waynesville.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Miller and daughter were guests Sunday of Mrs. Effie Scroggy at Wilmington.

Mrs. William Blair spent the past week at the home of her brother Elmer Mills near Xenia.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Compton entertained the members of the Christian Endeavor Society at their home west of town Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Compton spent several days this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Evan Bogart.

The all day service which was to have been held at the Friends Church Sunday has been postponed on account of sickness among the children.

I can't see how they could. You can't mix milk and vinegar and expect a very happy combination.

Bigness ploughs right through bitterness. And when you are big enough you have no bitterness at all in your heart, toward life or toward anyone in life.

Bitterness does nothing but destroy. Bigness does nothing but build.

It is not always easy to be magnanimous and big, but that is what creates bigness—going through difficult things and experiences and then coming out big, softened and cleansed in character and worth.

If anyone ever had excuses for becoming bitter, it was Lincoln, as he sought to deal fairly with a divided nation as well as with those about him who were not always fair and big. There was much bitterness, but his bigness rose above it all.

There are those who have bitter thoughts, but bitterness in the heart can never produce anything but unhappiness, ill health and failure.

I can see no note of bitterness in nature. All seems big and serene.

Only in these highly organized human bodies of ours does there seem to be place for discord and bitterness. I have often wondered why this is. Perhaps it is so that bigness may take on larger scope and tower above all else.

Banish bitterness from your heart, my friend. Be big. Lift up your head, and see how much greater the world looks when you are big.

PATRIOTISM

One need not hate an alien land to be
A staunch and true defender of his own.
I hold my country first, and make it known
By all the strength which God has given me.
I never raise my eyes her flag to sea
But what my love and gratitude are shown,
A fairer banner winds have never blown
Above a temple spire or ship at sea.

Can give her all my love and service,
and
Still speak of alien countries without hate.

Eaton, O., Nov. 22.—After conversing with physicians for 30 minutes after his automobile was wrecked by a railroad train here, Ora Flora, 35, prominent farmer of this city, died. Death was due to shock, the physicians said, as he had sustained no broken bones or visible injuries.

WE REMEMBER

A Conservative Financial Institution Always Remembers. The Public Frequently Forgets.

How easily and how soon, as a people, we forget great public money losses. We are startled at the time. We condemn the bad judgment, the disregard of safe rules of finance that caused them. Then they pass into history and are almost forgotten.

The Conservative financial institution never forgets. It always steers by the age-old beacons of safety. It never offers a return greater than experience shows can be steadily and safely earned. It pays to be safe.

FIFRY, ITCHY SKIN QUICKLY SOOTHED WITH SULPHUR

Mentho-Sulphur, a pleasant cream, will soothe and heal skin that is irritated or broken out with eczema; that is covered with ugly rash or pimples, or is rough or dry. Nothing soothes fiery skin eruptions so quickly, says a noted skin specialist. The moment this sulphur preparation is applied the itching stops and after two or three applications, the eczema is gone and the skin is delightfully clear and smooth. Sulphur is so precious as a skin remedy because it destroys the parasites that cause the burning, itching or disfigurement. Mentho-Sulphur always heals eczema right up. A small jar of Rowley's Mentho-Sulphur may be had at any good drug store.

TAXI OPERATOR FINED

Curtis Hale, operator of a taxicab line was fined $10 and costs by Judge E. D. Smith in Police Court Friday morning on affidavit based on an old city ordinance forbidding taxi operators to solicit passengers on the platform of the Pennsylvania Railroad Depot.

Hale was arrested more than a week ago on a warrant sworn out by Daniel Donovan, operator of the fellow Cab Company, charging that Hale invaded the platform to solicit passengers alighting from trains in violation of the ordinance. The ordinance itself is of several years' standing and was originally drawn up and passed at the request of the railroad company to eliminate the annoyance of cab operators soliciting business on the platform during train time.

KILLED BY FUMES FROM STILL

Ironton, O., Nov. 23.—Thomas Deere, 50, and son Raymond, 21, were found dead in a cave 150 feet from its entrance, in the hills near here. A still they were operating was running moonshine when Coroner Gannon and Sheriff Demont entered the cave. Coroner Gannon says fumes from the still caused their death. The elder Deere leaves a wife and six children.

HEALTH and beauty go hand in hand. Where the system is run down—the face drawn and haggard—the body limp and lifeless—beauty is missing. Looks of pity supplant those that might have been gazes of admiration.

Restore your health and beauty will take care of herself. S. S. S.—the rich blood builder—rekindles the spark of health and lights the blaze of beauty by building red blood cells. The nerve power of your system finds life in these very blood cells. Build more red blood cells and your nerve power will increase. S. S. S. builds them. Rich blood will tingle through your system. That lost charm will return. Your entire system will be repaired. You will be ready to cope with the impurities and blemishes that handicap beauty.

As physical health means beauty so, too, does S. S. S. mean beauty. For S. S. S. means systems that are free from impurities—pimples, blackheads, acne, boils, eczema, rheumatism. S. S. S. and good health go hand in hand.

S. S. S. is made of pure vegetable ingredients. It is sold at all good drug stores. The large size bottle is more economical.

EAST END NEWS

Miss Margaret Watkins, ex-teacher, of East High School addressed the faculty and students of that school, Wednesday.

She spoke of the large number of negroes, migrating north, annually. Referring to their progress she made numerous citations of their achievements in every profession, industry and business but gave assurance the supply was not yet as great as the demand and the same opportunity was open to all who desires success.

The public is invited to attend a Thanksgiving program in the East High Auditorium Friday night at 7:30 o'clock. The students of the Sophomore class are working hard to make this program a success. The main feature will be an attractive playlet entitled "A Dream of Thanksgiving."

FIRE DEPARTMENT CALLED
Smoke filling the corridor of the second floor of the Gazette Building at ten o'clock Friday morning led to the Fire Department being called there. Firemen believe soot burning in the flues caused the volume of smoke which found its way out from window casings and through floors. Loss was confined to damage necessary in the attempt to locate the fire.

ADDRESSES XENIA STUDENTS ON DRY LAW ENFORCEMENT

"The crusade today is for the milk bottle against the beer bottle, for the greatest of all institutions, the American Home, against the drinking places," said Miss Georgia Hopley of Washington, D. C., in addressing the pupils of the Central High School and East High School Thursday.

Miss Hopley is the only woman under Federal Prohibition Commissioner Haynes employed by the Government in this department of work. She is from the Constructive Information Bureau at Washington and has been taking advantage of American Education week to present the work which has been done with Prohibition only partially enforced and what can and must be done to insure further benefits through the enforcement of the Prohibition Amendment.

"The important feature of the enforcement of the Prohibition Amendment today said Miss Hopley, 'is the education of the people. The whole campaign is one of education and it is up to all of us to teach both the children and the adult just what are the issues involved in this question. It is the duty of those of us who do believe in law and order versus lawlessness to state our case so clearly and convincingly that a new generation will grow up with a clear understanding of the real shame of the conditions as they exist today. The way to get rid of the darkness is to turn on the light, and education is light. The anti-dote for anti-prohibition is facts, administered in homeopathic doses."

Among the homeopathic doses administered by Miss Hopley was the statement that drink has filled more graves than all the wars. That while $8,250,000 is the sum allotted for the work of the Federal Prohibition Unit, drink formerly cost the nation $2,000,000,000 annually which would have built 325,600 homes at $3,800 each was three times the amount spent on schools and twice the value of all the church property.

Liquor appetites were being created while today they are being cured. There has been outlawed 177,790 saloons, 1,090 breweries and 236 distilleries. There was formerly manufactured annually 19½ million gallons of real beer while today there is manufactured 1½ million gallons of near beer, Connie Mack, the great base ball magnate has said all the umpires together haven't put out of the game as many men as old man booze.

During the recent Harding campaign Miss Hopley was in charge of the publicity work of the State with headquarters at Columbus at which time Miss Hallie Q. Brown of Wilberforce, was associated at headquarters in the capacity as state organizer and speaker.

Miss Hopley visited Wilberforce while here and will return early in the year to address the students.

LABOR IN COAL BUSINESS

Cleveland, Nov. 23.—Labor is in the coal business in Cleveland, furnishing coal from the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers' Coal River Collieries company mines in West Virginia, delivered to consumers here at $7.50 a ton. The price is about $5 below the price asked by private coal retailers in Cleveland, according to Albert F. Coyle, secretary.

PARDON SOUGHT FOR CRAIG

Washington, Nov. 23.—A movement to secure a presidential pardon for Charles L. Craig, New York comptroller, under sentence for contempt, was launched at the white house and department of justice by Edward P. Doyle, who claimed to be an attorney working in the interest of Mr. Craig. Mr. Doyle put the case directly up to President Coolidge.

A WOMAN'S WAY

"I tried for four months to get my wife to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which I know had helped a friend of mine who also suffered from stomach trouble. She insisted her case was different. I finally had to bribe her with a new dress. The first dose produced remarkable results, clearing up her complexion and restoring her appetite. She can now eat things she hadn't been able to for many years." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Sold by Sayre and Hemphill and druggists everywhere.

Beauty for Girls

Youth for women—Let me show you how
By Edna Wallace Hopper

For 40 years I have a famous beauty. Now, at the age of 62, I am the most talked-about woman in America as an example of perennial youth.

The reason is this: My mother and I, many years ago, searched the world to find the best beauty helps in existence. They multiplied my beauty, and I became the rage. They have kept my beauty to a grand old age.

I am convinced that these helps can bring like results to millions. And I have decided to enable all to put out of the game as many men as old man booze.

EASY, SIMPLE WAYS
I do about what you do. But the difference is that I employ the best helps science knows.

You use clay, perhaps. Any woman who omits it does herself injustice. But you use crude and muddy clays which I quit years ago. I use a modern clay, white, refined and dainty. A clay perfected by 20 years of scientific study.

Mine I call my White Youth Clay. It is fully ten times as efficient as ordinary clays. The new complexion that it brings amazes and delights. Many women in 30 minutes seem to drop ten years.

Clay brings rosy, clear complexions. It takes out the causes of blackheads and blemishes. It firms the skin, combats all lines and wrinkles. The women who employ it stand out in every crowd.

But my White Youth Clay is a superclay—the last word in facial clays. It brings multiplied results. The cost is 50 cents and $1.

THE SUPREME CREAMS
You use creams, no doubt. I spent a fortune to secure the best creams in existence.

My Youth Cream is a cold cream, containing both lemon and strawberry. Also all the best that science knows to foster and feed the skin texture.

I apply it after my clay. Also as a night cream. Also daytimes as a powder base. It is ever-present, to whiten, soften and preserve my skin. I have never known another cream which brought any like results.

I clean my skin with my Facial Youth. That is a liquid cleanser which I found long ago in France. Now leading beauty experts everywhere employ it.

It contains no animal, no vegetable fat. The skin cannot absorb it. But it enters the pores and cleans the skin to the depths. Nothing else in all the world can clean the skin as this does.

My Facial Youth sells for 75 cents. The identical formula by great beauty experts, is everywhere sold at $3.

FOR BEAUTIFUL HAIR
My hair is my greatest glory. It is thick and lustrous, and grows finer every year. Never have I known a falling hair, dandruff or gray hair.

This is due to my Hair Youth, which France perfected for me. I apply it with an eye dropper, directly to the scalp. It keeps the scalp clean and the hair roots stimulated. I have brought beautiful hair to countless friends by giving them this method. It costs 50 cents and $1.

All druggists and toilet counters supply the beauty helps I use. Go try them. Each will bring you rich rewards. I am very glad to enable you to get them. Edna Wallace Hopper, Business address, Waukesha, Wis.

$10.00 for YOU

Just like finding money. With every Apex Electric Suction Cleaner we are giving absolutely free of charge one complete standard set of cleaning attachments. Those who take advantage of this unusual opportunity will be just $10.00 ahead. This remarkable offer is for a limited time only. We can get no more of these attachments sets for free distribution and our allotment is nearly exhausted.

No other cleaner just as good. Compare it with others just as we did, and you will agree with us that it has no equal. Its patented divided or twin nozzle spreads its powerful suction to the extreme ends of the 13 inch wide nozzle. This "duck bill" snout easily cleans under and around low built furniture and other obstacles too heavy to move.

The Apex Cleaner weighs only 10 pounds and is very light running. The convenient location of the switch in the handle gives the operator instant control in starting or stopping the motor. The wheels, of special composition, leave no marks on varnished floors. The bag is quickly and easily detached for emptying. The Apex can't possibly do the slightest injury to the most delicate nap of any carpet or rug.

Free Demonstration of the Wonderful ROTAREX

Run in and see just how perfectly the world-famous Rotarex Electric Clothes Washer works. It makes clothes clean without wear by a new and different principle. The only washer on earth that does not wash back into the clothes the dirt that is washed out of them.

The new Rotarex washing principle segregates the dirt and grime so that it floats around behind the cylinder and only clean water, drawn from below the surface through the holes in the cylinder ends, is used for the washing operation.

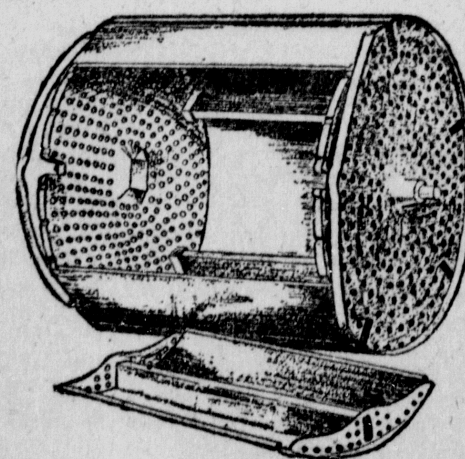

The handsome all-aluminum Rotarex Wringer of special design is fitted with extra rolls that do not break or pull off the buttons and is pronounced by experts the finest and most expensive wringer to be found on any washing machine on the market. Make it your business to learn all about the superior qualities of this great washer; it will pay you.

Some Features of the Rotarex Washer

1. A Beautiful Machine.
2. All Aluminum Cylinder weighs less than 10 pounds.
3. Friction Clutch.
4. Eight Positive Safety Devices.
5. Easy Control.
6. Enclosed working parts kept well lubricated.
7. A wonderful cylinder that has revolutionized the principle of washing.

Look Where the Holes Are

They are in the ends of the cylinder. The walls or sides of the cylinder over which the clothes glide are smooth as glass—no dragging and scraping over a perforated surface. It washes without wear.

NOVEMBER MEETING OF MISSIONARY SOCIETY

Mrs. E. C. Moorman of North King Street, graciously welcomed forty-two members of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First United Presbyterian Church, at the November meeting, Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. A. M. Patterson presided and Mrs. W. J. Cherry had charge of the devotions, which were made impressive by a series of prayers exhibiting the Thanksgiving spirit and citing a number of Scripture verses asking the guests to locate them.

The president of the society read a number of tributes received by Dr. A. M. Patterson in memory of the Rev. Harry K. Wright, a missionary to Shanghai, China, for twenty-one years, and whose sudden death in the midst of a remarkable and useful career, caused great sorrow to his fellow laborers. He and Dr. Patterson were life-long friends. The Rev. Mr. Wright was the son of the Rev. J. B. Wright who will be remembered as pastor of the First Church from 1840 to 1889.

The usual business was transacted, different reports including that of the Presbyterian meeting at Clinton, being read. A sum of money was ordered sent to the Indian Missions in Tama, Iowa, in charge of the Rev. R. G. Smith, and wife for their Thanksgiving dinner.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Walter Dean, assisted by Mrs. J. Carl Marshall, each reading a paper from the Mission Study "Life in India." A questionnaire on the same subject was conducted.

A social hour was enjoyed honoring the new pastor, the Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Lytle. Refreshments were served by the Executive Committee during which time Mrs. W. J. Cherry sang two solos, of her own composition "The Seal Lullaby" and "Sundown." Mrs. John M. Davidson, sang two solos, "The Beaming Eyes" and "The Swan Bent Low to the Lily" by Edward McDowell.

The December meeting of the society will be held at the home of Mrs. D. S. Ervin.

EVENING PARTY ENJOYED BY THIMBLE CLUB MEMBERS

Twenty-five members and visitors of Obedient Thimble Club were entertained at the home of Mrs. George Pillsbury, assisted by Mrs. H. L. Cleaver, Thursday evening.

After the regular business meeting music, games and contests were enjoyed by the guests. Refreshments were served later in the evening.

Mrs. Asa Price and Mrs. Harry Karch will entertain the members at an all-day meeting at the home of Mrs. Price, December 7, at which time comforts will be knotted.

GIVEN SURPRISE ON WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Twenty friends and neighbors of Mrs. Clarence Jeffries, arranged a merry surprise at her home on West Main Street, Wednesday evening, on the occasion of her wedding anniversary. The guests gathered at the home of Mrs. William McKinney, and later went to the Jeffries home.

Refreshments, games and a social time were enjoyed.

EAVEY OFFICE FORCE ENTERTAINED

The office force of the Eavey Wholesale Grocery Company, was delightfully entertained at dinner at home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Stephenson on Collier Street, Wednesday evening.

A delicious four-course dinner was served, covers being laid for the following, the Misses Ruth Arment, Kathryn Kennedy, Mrs. Elizabeth Anderson, Thelma Anderson, Messrs. Billy Anderson, James Paullin, Helen Smith, Florence Stephenson, Elizabeth Stephenson and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Stephenson.

PAST COUNCILLORS MEET

Eight members of the Past Councilors' Club of Pride of Xenia Council No. 140, Daughters of America, were entertained by Mrs. Harry Greene at her home on West Second Street, on Wednesday afternoon. At the business meeting, plans were laid for a market.

BANQUET FOLLOWS MEETING

A delicious banquet followed the regular team practice and business meeting of Pride of Xenia Council, No. 140, Daughters of America, at the Junior Order Hall, Thursday evening.

Dancing and a social time followed the banquet.

XENIA DANCING CLUB

The Xenia Dancing Club members will enjoy another affair, at the Elks' Club, Monday evening, Nov. 26, at eight-thirty o'clock.

GORHAM-KELBLE PARTY FOR MISS GRAHAM

Miss Alsetta Gorham and Miss Katherine Kelble charmingly entertained at the home of Miss Gorham on Mechanic Street, Thursday evening, for the pleasure of Miss Anna Graham, Thanksgiving Day bride-elect.

Fourteen girls were received, who "showered" Miss Graham with a miscellaneous array of gifts. Games, music and singing were enjoyed and in a group of three contests, the Misses Mary Crow, Margaret Shelley and Miss Graham, the honor guest, won prizes. A pretty luncheon course was served.

A profusion of yellow chrysanthemums about the rooms, and other appointments of the party, carried out a color scheme of yellow and lavender.

O. E. S. THIMBLE CLUB ENTERTAINED THURSDAY

A series of Thanksgiving contests was enjoyed by forty members of Aldora Chapter, No. 262, Order of the Eastern Star Thimble Club, at the home of Mrs. A. E. Faulker on West Second Street, Thursday afternoon. Prizes were awarded the winner in the various contests. A delicious refreshments course was served, and an informal social time enjoyed.

Mrs. Faulker's assistants were Mrs. Frank Shelley, Mrs. H. E. Schmidt, Mrs. Emma Eley, Mrs. Carl Knisley, Mrs. Elmer Wood, Mrs. R. A. Tull and Mrs. Frank Wolf and Miss Edna Miller.

AFTERNOON PARTY FOR BRIDE-ELECT

Complimenting Miss Mildred Adams whose marriage to Mr. Phillip Linski, of near Dayton, will be solemnized near Christmas, Mrs. Mildred Foster, entertained at a pretty miscellaneous "shower" at the home of her mother, Mrs. R. E. Corry, in Yellow Springs, Saturday afternoon.

Twenty-four young women were received who presented Miss Adams with many lovely gifts. The afternoon was spent with contests and knotting a comfort for the honor guest. Refreshments were served with attractive appointments.

TO SERVE OYSTER SUPPER

The Royal Neighbors of America, will meet Friday night at 7:30 at the Junior Hall. An oyster supper will be served.

Mrs. Charles Galloway, of Evanson, Illinois, spent Wednesday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Galloway of north Galloway Street. Mrs. Galloway had been spending several days in Cincinnati with her aunt, Miss Sarah Hagar, who is at Dr. Vail's Hospital, recovering from an operation, performed or the removal of a cataract on her right eye, recently. Miss Hagar is recovering nicely, but will remain in Cincinnati a week longer.

Mrs. Marshall Barker of Hamilton, spent several days this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Galloway, of North Galloway Street. She is now visiting her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson W. Galloway, of Cedarville.

Miss Lois Purdom of North Galloway Street, is spending a week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Purdom, in Columbus. She will attend the Home Coming Game at the Ohio State University, Saturday.

U. S. Senator S. D. Fess, of Yellow Springs, was the speaker at the noon-day luncheon, Thursday, at the Memorial Hall, Springfield, in connection with the Community Chest Drive, in that City.

Miss Mary Cathryn Bush, of Milledgeville, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Alice Clark of Cottage Grove Avenue, for several weeks, has returned home.

NEW LAMP BURNS 94% AIR

Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent air and 6 per cent common kerosene (coal-oil).

The inventor, E. A. Johnson, 609 W. Lake St., Chicago, Ill., is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

IN THE SIXTY YEARS SINCE GETTYSBURG.

Sixty years ago, November 19, Abraham Lincoln made his immortal speech at Gettysburg. There were only twenty-nine lines in the crumpled first manuscript of that address, nine sentences and 250 words.

The listening crowd, close-necked around the platform, was surprised by its shortness. It was given after the long address by Edward Everett a now-forgotten effort of rolling periods and classical allusions. It is recorded that the thousands who had gathered on Cemetery Hill seemed disappointed in the brief, simple speech of the President.

Yet the Everett address has gone from men's minds, and those 250 simple words of Lincoln stand out in letters of fire against the shadowy background of the War Between the States. They have come to ring more and more powerfully out of those clamorous times. Wherever English is read or spoken, they echo on and on over the world. School children memorize them and statesmen having a faith in humanity ponder them when dangers threaten.

Six decades and a thousand threats to "government of the people, by the people, for the people," have come and gone since Lincoln stood in the pale November sunshine at Gettysburg. Great as it was, the war that was raging then was no more than a skirmish in the long battle for human freedom that stretches back into the ages. Since Gettysburg it has gone on, with democracy now advancing, now retreating and again advancing over the world. Moving unevenly, nevertheless, the line of its advance has gone a long way forward since November 19, 1863.

Autocracy the world over has steadily receded toward the shadows and the dust in the last sixty years. The Romanoffs are gone and their cheap successors, with their shoddy blood-stained tyranny, will follow them. In the long run, however, they may threaten in Europe's present malness, but the Hapsburgs and Hohenzollerns must go. Bonapartes and Bourbons alike have vanished from the stage of France and the Old World.

The dictators of today? These Lenines and Trotskys of Russia, these Mussolinis of Italy, these Riveras of Spain, are no more than the small dust in the balances of the years. The stars in their courses fight against such as these. So long as men will dedicate themselves as Lincoln dedicated himself and his Nation to "the great task," so long as the world shall "highly resolve" that its dead in the name of freedom "shall not have died in vain," no dictator can last and autocracy cannot for long lift its hateful hand—Public Ledger.

THE TRUTH ABOUT OUR EUROPEAN TRADE

The cry continues to go up that American prosperity is dependent upon the restoration of normal industrial conditions in Europe, and therefore that it is worth, in dollars and cents, the risk of our own safety to involve ourselves in European political complications in order that we may enlarge our markets abroad. What are the facts?

We are shipping today to Europe from five to sixteen times as much of various kinds of foodstuffs as we did before the war. Europe today takes half our exports, to the total of a billion and a half dollars annually.

Great Britain is exporting only 10 per cent less than before the war, and importing 2 1/2 per cent less. France is exporting and importing more in volume than before the war. Europe is not so bad off financially as our alarmists would have us believe, nor is she losing in her commercial transactions with the United States, since our balance of trade is wiped out by freights, expenditures for foreign travel, remittances of emigrants, exports of capital and other transactions.

There is a steady upward trend in our exports. They are 60 per cent greater than at any time before the war.

The cry that it is necessary for the United States to act as a policeman and banker for Europe is merely a part of the pernicious propaganda put out by the internationalists, some of whom are inspired by sordid and others by visionary motives.

THE MEXICAN ELECTION.

As Mexico enters upon its presidential campaign the Obregon administration definitely puts itself behind the candidacy of General Calles. President Obregon is not content to recommend Calles to the voters, but attacks without mercy the other candidate, Senor de la Huerta, whom he accuses of shameless graft and corruption.

De la Huerta is a former political friend of President Obregon and was for several years secretary of finance in his cabinet. Now it is charged that he has misappropriated several millions of dollars that should have been used to pay off the foreign debt of Mexico, and he is accused of keeping on the public payroll great numbers of men whose only duty was to run the De la Huerta political machine.

The former secretary of finance is not without active and useful friends, who are very angry over the interference of the government in the campaign; and, since Mexican politicians do not always confine themselves to debating public affairs from the platform, there is a chance that the coming campaign will be fought out with arms as well as with ballots.

"GO ON UP THERE!"

1903-- Twenty Years Ago--1923

A delightful musicale was enjoyed at the O. S. and S. O. Home Tuesday when Prof. John H. Weldig the Dayton representative of the Aeolian Company gave a recital by means of the pianola, at which he presided. Mrs. W. H. McGervey sang, accompanied by the pianola. Nearly all of last week agents of the Mormon church were in the East End making a house to house canvass to their faith. The residents near heard of a Mormon preacher and gave "further notice."

Everything seems to be pointing to a fine game for the big football game tomorrow. The barometer says fine weather, both for the players and the crowd.

Today's Talk

BIGNESS AND BITTERNESS

I read the other day that bigness and bitterness never went together.

NEW BURLINGTON

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Mitchner had for their guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jones and son, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jones, Herman Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Compton and Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Blair and daughter.

Thomas Harlan of Mansfield, was the guest of his mother, Mrs. A. H. Harlan a few days the past week.

Frank Blair of Dayton spent several days the past week at his home here.

There are several cases of mumps and scarlet fever in our community. Rev. Curless and family visited friends at Blanchester the past week.

Mrs. Ziml Haines is ill with an attack of the grip.

Earl, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Waldron, east of town, died Saturday at the cemetery here Monday. The services were held at the home in charge of Rev. Curless, pastor of the M. E. Church.

The Aid Society of the M. E. Church will meet Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Jennie Davis, near Roxanna.

Mrs. Ervin Blair is confined to her home with mumps.

The Young Married People's class of the M. E. Sabbath School, with well filled baskets, gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Davis, near Roxanna, Sunday Nov. 11. The Davis family will move soon to a farm near Waynesville.

Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Miller and daughter were guests Sunday of Mrs. Effie Scroggy at Wilmington.

Mrs. William Blair spent the past week at the home of her brother Elmer Mills near Xenia.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Compton entertained the members of the Christian Endeavor Society at their home west of town Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Compton spent several days this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Evan Bogan.

The all day service which was to have been held at the Friends Church Sunday has been postponed on account of sickness among the children.

I can't see how they could. You can't mix milk and vinegar and expect a very happy combination.

Bigness ploughs right through bitterness. And when you are big enough you have no bitterness at all in your heart, toward life or toward anyone in life.

Bitterness does nothing but destroy. Bigness does nothing but build.

It is not always easy to be magnanimous and big, but that is what creates bigness—going through difficult things and experiences and then coming out big, softened and cleansed in character and worth.

If anyone ever had excuses for becoming bitter, it was Lincoln, as he sought to deal fairly with a divided nation as well as with those about him who were not always fair and big. There was much bitterness, but his bigness rose above it all.

There are those who have bitter thoughts, but bitterness in the heart can never produce anything but unhappiness, ill health and failure. I can see no note of bitterness in nature. All seems big and serene.

Only in these highly organized human bodies of ours does there seem to be place for discord and bitterness. I have often wondered why this is. Perhaps it is so that bigness may take on larger scope and tower above all else.

Banish bitterness from your heart, my friend. Be big. Lift up your head, and see how much greater the world looks when you are big.

BOWERSVILLE

Many have been out rabbit hunting since the game season opened.

Mr. and Mrs. John Blinagar and family moved to town recently from their farm east of here.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Kelso were Sunday guests of Sabina relatives.

Rev. P. J. Clark of Coshocton moved here recently and will occupy the M. P. parsonage the coming year. Rev. Clark will fill the pulpit of the M. P. church at this place.

Mrs. Elba Hargrave and family moved here recently. Mr. Hargrave is assisting as clerk in the general store of Ross Bros.

Mrs. R. A. Chitty is much improved since returning from the sanitarium at Delaware and able to be about her room unassisted.

Rev. Foltz of Lakeview, Logan County, for several years pastor of the M. P. Church here, spent the week end the guest of friends.

Several attended the public sale of George Toops on the Bryan Farm near Yellow Springs, Wednesday.

PATRIOTISM

One need not hate an alien land to be

A staunch and true defender of his own.

I hold my country first, and make it known

By all the strength which God has given me.

I never raise my eyes her flag to see

But what my love and gratitude are shown.

A fairer banner winds have never blown

Above a temple spire or ship at sea.

Yet I can breathe my love of this, my land,

And count the blessings which have made her great,

Rejoice that I am her's and that I stand

Each day within the shelter of her gate.

Can give her all my love and service, and Still speak of alien countries without hate.

DIES IN LEBANON

Greene County relatives have received word of the death of Mrs. Walter St. John of Lebanon which occurred Monday. Funeral service took place Thursday. Mrs. St. John had been ill a long time. Mr. St. John died a year ago.

COLLISION PROVES FATAL

Eaton, O., Nov. 22.—After conversing with physicians for 30 minutes after his automobile was wrecked by a railroad train here, Ora Flora, 33, prominent farmer of this city, died. Death was due to shock, the physicians said, as he had sustained no broken bones or visible injuries.

WE REMEMBER

A Conservative Financial Institution Always Remembers. The Public Frequently Forgets.

How easily and how soon, as a people, we forget great public money losses. We are startled at the time. We condemn the bad judgment, the disregard of safe rules of finance that caused them. Then they pass into history and are almost forgotten.

The Conservative financial institution never forgets. It always steers by the age-old beacons of safety. It never offers a return greater than experience shows can be steadily and safely earned. It pays to be safe.

FIERY, ITCHY SKIN QUICKLY SOOTHED WITH SULPHUR

Mentho-Sulphur, a pleasant cream, will soothe and heal skin that is irritated or broken out with eczema; that is covered with ugly rash or pimples, or is rough or dry. Nothing soothes fiery skin eruptions so quickly, says a noted skin specialist. The moment this sulphur preparation is applied the itching stops and after two or three applications, the eczema is gone and the skin is delightfully clear and smooth. Sulphur is so precious as a skin remedy because it destroys the parasites that cause the burning, itching or disfigurement. Mentho-Sulphur always heals eczema right up. A small jar of Rowles' Mentho-Sulphur may be had at any good drug store.

TAXI OPERATOR FINED

Curtis Hale, operator of a taxicab line was fined $10 and costs by Judge E. D. Smith in Police Court Friday morning on affidavit based on an old city ordinance forbidding taxi operators to solicit passengers on the platform of the Pennsylvania Railroad Depot. Hale was arrested more than a week ago on a warrant sworn out by Daniel Donovan, operator of the fellow Cab Company, charging that Hale invaded the platform to solicit passengers alighting from trains in violation of the ordinance. The ordinance itself is of several years' standing and was originally drawn up and passed at the request of the railroad company to eliminate the annoyance of cab operators soliciting business on the platform during train time.

KILLED BY FUMES FROM STILL

Ironston, O., Nov. 23.—Thomas Deere, 50, and son Raymond, 21, were found dead in a cave 150 feet from its entrance, in the hills near here. A still they were operating was running moonshine when Coroner Gannon and Sheriff Demont entered the cave. Coroner Gannon says fumes from the still caused their death. The elder Deere leaves a wife and six children.

HEALTH and beauty go hand in hand. Where the system is run down—the face drawn and haggard—the body limp and lifeless—beauty is missing. Looks of pity supplant those that might have been gazes of admiration. Restore your health and beauty will take care of herself. S. S. EAST END NEWS

Miss Margaret Watkins, ex-teacher, of East High School addressed the faculty and students of that school, Wednesday.

She spoke of the large number of negroes, migrating north, annually. Referring to their progress she made numerous citations of their achievements in every profession, industry and business but gave assurance the supply was not yet as great as the demand and the same opportunity was open to all who desire success.

ity was open to all who desire success.

The public is invited to attend a Thanksgiving program in the East High Auditorium Friday night at 7:30 o'clock. The students of the Sophomore class are working hard to make this program a success. The main feature will be an attractive playlet, entitled "A Dream of Thanksgiving."

FIRE DEPARTMENT CALLED
Smoke filling the corridor of the second floor of the Gazette Building at ten o'clock Friday morning led to the Fire Department being called there. Firemen believe soot burning in the flues caused the volume of smoke which found its way out from window casings and through floors. Loss was confined to damage necessary in the attempt to locate the fire.

COUNTY OWES CITY $423.90 AUDITOR TELLS COMMISSION

Xenia City still has $423.90 coming to it from the income from the old Xenia Work House property, abandoned as a penal institution some time ago and recently sold, according to a report made to the City Commission Thursday night by T. H. Zell, city auditor.

The report showed the sum of $847.80, representing income from rentals, is still in the joint treasury, and that the city is entitled to one-half this sum and the county to the other half, as the joint owner with the city in the property before its sale.

City Auditor Zell said the sum due the city should be transferred from the Work House Fund to the general fund and that he should be given authority to make the transfer and to make settlement with the county commissioners. A resolution giving such authority was prepared by City Solicitor J. A. Pinney but withheld until the next meeting of the Commission.

Action was delayed because City Auditor Zell called the attention of commissioners to a finding returned against the county by a state examiner of the city books in 1920, showing the county owed the city $139 for election expenses when the city paid for the rental of election booths and the manufacture of a number of new ballot boxes which should have been paid for by the county.

City Manager S. O. Hale was instructed to investigate the finding and take it up with county officials and the distribution of the joint fund will be held up pending settlement.

WARNS OF DANGER IN GETTING "MAD"

If you get good and mad you can generate enough poison in your system to kill a pig, stated Rev. Edward Berger, Thursday night at the First M.
E. Church in his lecture on "Re-educating Your Personality."
He told how Dr. Gates, formerly of the Smithsonian Institute of Washington, collected and bottled forty samples of different poisons obtained from he perspiration and glands of people under emotional strain such as anger, fear and hate. These being reduced to a powder and then fed to a guinea pig, the latter died within a short time. "That is what we do to ourselves," said the speaker, "in losing our tempers; we set free in our bodies highly poisonous secretions, hence headaches, nausea, and other physiological disturbances."

"The center of all habit is the subconscious, for a habit is always due to the persistence of a mental image,
good or bad," said the lecturer.
"While the cause is mental, every habit has finally a physiological effect."

The topic Friday night at eight o'clock is "Making Your Own Psycho-
Analysis or Unscrambling Your Past."
All lectures are free except on Friday night, when there is an admission charge of fifty cents.

RAILROAD SEEKS COURT ORDER TO PRESERVE CONTRACT

A taxicab war that has been rumbling for several weeks burst forth in the courts Friday when The Pennsylvania Railroad Company filed injunction suits against Daniel Donovan, operator of the Yellow Cab Company and Charles Cunningham, operator of a private taxi line, in Common Pleas Courts.

Both actions seek to restrain the defendants from driving their taxicabs up to the Pennsylvania Railroad station platform on what the railroads claim to be private grounds unless they are delivering passengers or baggage at the depot or calling for passengers or baggage under a previous arrangement. A temporary restraining order asked for had not been granted Friday afternoon.

The petitions are identical. The plaintiff alleges it maintains private grounds around the passenger station here, as a means of ingress and egress for patrons and passengers. The plaintiff further alleges that on October 1, 1923, the plaintiff entered into a contract with Curtis Hale, in consideration of money from Hale and his agreement to abide by certain rules and conditions to be promulgated by the plaintiff, whereby Hale was granted the sole and exclusive right to enter upon the station grounds to solicit business and incoming passengers for taxi and baggage service.

The contract, the petition alleges, provides that others may enter upon the grounds for the purpose of delivering or receiving patrons or baggage when such service has been previously arranged for but that the plaintiff is obligated by the contract to prohibit other persons than Hale from entering the grounds except when previous arrangements are made. The petition declares the defendant in each action has persisted in coming onto the private grounds when not requested to by passengers, to the damage of Hale.

The company asks an injunction restricting the rights of other carriers to the obligations of the contract, and for permanent injunction on the final hearing and for a temporary restraining order. The actions were signed by I. T. Emery, passenger agent, and were filed by Matthews and Matthews, attorneys for the plaintiff.

The petitions following on the heels of the contract are said to be the result of disputes over depot rights, which terminated in the contract made known several weeks ago. If the temporary restraining order is allowed, taxi cabs operated by Cunningham and the Yellow Cab Company will have to park at the foot of the depot entrance hill on South Detroit street and await there to solicit passengers.

WASHINGTON HIGH CANCELS GRID GAME ENDING 1923 SEASON

Cancellation by Washington school authorities of the scheduled Washington C. H.--Xenia Central High School football game to have been played in Washington Friday afternoon brought a premature and unexpected end to the blue and white gridiron campaign of 1923.

Washington authorities notified Business Manager John R. Beacham Thursday afternoon that owing to an epidemic of scarlet fever rampant in Washington, health authorities advised against playing a game. Washington schools are closed and health officials did not believe it would be wise to suffer the gathering of a crowd in that city while the disease is liable to spread.

Because it was afraid members of the Washington football team might carry the disease here, the Washington authorities also turned down an offer to play the game in this city. As a result of the last minute cancellation, Washington will have to pay Xenia a forfeit under the rules of the Ohio High School Athletic Association. The forfeit will even things between the schools as Xenia paid Washington a forfeit for a similar cancellation several years ago.

Business Manager Beacham attempted to book games either here or away from home with Hillsboro, West Milton and Arcanum without results. None of these teams have games booked for today but all were unwilling to help Xenia fill its open date. As a result of the failure to get a game, Coach

ARMY AND NAVY SET FOR ANNUAL GAME

Capt. Carney and Capt. Mulligan.

Captain Mulligan, of the United States Military Academy eleven, will lead his strong team to New York on November 24 for the annual game against the Annapolis eleven, headed by Captain Carney.

Earl Burnger ordered players to turn in their uniforms and the season was officially declared dead. A photograph of the team in uniform was taken Thursday evening. The team won one game, tied one and lost six during the season just closed.

NINE THOUSAND ARE INVITED TO WEDDING

New York, Nov. 23.—The largest colored wedding ever held in this country will take place Saturday, when Miss Mae Walker Robinson, daughter of Mrs. Amelia Walker Robinson, becomes the bride of Dr. Henry Gordon Jackson of Chicago. Nine thousand invitations have been issued.

Miss Robinson is the granddaughter of Mrs. C. J. Walker, who is said to have made $1,000,000 through the sale of a preparation which she professed took the kink out of the hair of negroes.

The ceremony will take place at St. Philip's Episcopal church and will be performed by Father Hutchins Bishop, assisted by the Rev. Shelton Bishop. In the afternoon there will be a reception at Villa Lewaro, the home of the bride's mother at Irvington-on-Hudson. J. B. Ransom of Indianapolis, will give the bride in marriage.

The bride's family has announced that the entire trousseau was made by and purchased from colored people.

EXPRESS COMPANY EMPLOYEES OF CITY BANQUET ON FRIDAY

One of the largest of the series of meetings held by employees of the American Railway Express Company over the country during the past three years, was held by the employees of the Xenia headquarters, at the I. O. O. F. Hall, Thursday night. After a rabbit dinner served by a group of women and a "right meeting" for the purpose of educating the employees to give the better kind of service, better methods of handling, and to lessen the loss and damage in freight traffic was held. Covers were laid for forty-five employees of the company, patrons, and officials.

Talks on the methods of improving the company's service were given by Superintendent C. F. Barrett, superintendent of the Southwestern Ohio division, with headquarters at Cincinnati; route agents, H. B. Groscock, Columbus headquarters, and G. A. Curry, Chillicothe headquarters; William Fric, general agent at Dayton; M. G. Stimmel, general agent of Springfield; F. J. Pope, New Castle, Indiana, agent; W. B. Tooker, Washington, C. H. agent, and Mr. Tooker's cashier, Mr. Armstrong; W. T. Whittington, Cedarville agent, and Mr. Phillips, Yellow Springs company clerk. Mr. Wilson, traffic manager of the Sunlight Creamery Company at Washington, C. H. also talked. Mr. Fric, general agent of Dayton, gave an interesting talk on the career of C. A. Taylor, president of the company, who died suddenly Sunday. Mr. Taylor rose from clerk to president of the company.

W. Lambert, messenger between Columbus and Cincinnati, was a guest at the affair.

The meeting was opened by L. L. Jordan, Xenia agent. The program was presided over by J. A. Hoban, route agent, this city. Patrons of the company present at the dinner and program included Allen Haines, of the Katz and Richards Clothing Store; C. P. Yowler of the Yowler Fish market; and William Marshall, Cedarville poultry man.

The women who assisted in serving the dinner were Mrs. Ray McElfresh, Mrs. Harley Hickman, Miss Lucia Jenner, Miss Mildred Bankard, and Miss Mary Katherine Jordan.

Piano solos and duets, were played by the Misses Iva and Edna Laycock, and Mrs. Zelta Betsch.

GENERAL REDUCTION IN TAXES FAVORED BY NEW ARRIVALS

Washington, Nov. 23.—Progressive senators arriving here for the opening of congress lined up solidly behind the proposals for general tax reduction, with special stress upon the taxes of the "little fellow," and also for immediate enactment of the soldier bonus.

The new arrivals were: Senators Ralph B. Howell, Progressive-Republican, Nebraska; Henry K. Shipstead, Farmer-Labor, Minnesota; and Burton J. Wheeler, Democratic Progressive, Montana. All declared their intention to fight for general tax reduction and to support the bonus bill.

Senator Howell said he has been studying the Mellon proposal, but has not reached a conclusion upon it. As to the general plan of reducing the taxes, he declared it would have his support, and that the bonus measure also would get his vote.

Senator Wheeler said: "I am not in favor of cutting down the surtaxes on the larger incomes alone. Rather than support such a plan I would propose reducing taxes on the smaller incomes and allowing the other taxes to remain. But I am absolutely in favor of cutting the taxes wherever possible and of reducing government expenses in every direction. I favor immediate passage of the bonus bill. It should be paid out of the tremendous amount of money made by profiteers during the war."

Senator Shipstead holds similar views on the bonus and tax reduction plans. Discussing the Mellon plan, he said: "I believe some of Secretary Mellon's figures are wrong and that if his plan were accepted there still would be enough money to defray the costs of the bonus. I am not convinced Secretary Mellon is right in declaring the high taxes are non-revenue producing."

Senator Norris of Nebraska, chairman of the progressive bloc to which Senator La Follette belongs, summed up his position as follows: "I am in favor of lowering the tax burden on the man who has a small income and increasing the burden on the man who has a large income. This is all I am thinking of in the matter of the Mellon plan or any other plan that is suggested for dealing with the tax problem."

Support of the Mellon plan came from the Democratic side in a statement by Senator William Cabell Bruce, recently elected in Maryland, who declared himself willing to support the plan exactly as proposed.

LOCAL NATIONAL GUARD UNIT SPONSORING BENEFIT PARTIES

Company E, 147th Infantry, National Guard is sponsoring a dance to be given next Wednesday evening for the benefit of the Company fund and to be used to fit up club rooms at the Company headquarters in the Foust Bldg., formerly the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

The dance will be given in the third floor dance hall of the company headquarters and an orchestra has not yet been selected. The company also hopes to sell its club room funds through a benefit show at the Bijou Theater, December 5, when the "Nth Commandment," a picture featuring Colleen Moore, will be offered.

GAS CONSUMERS OF CITY TO PAY FIFTY CENT EXTRA CHARGE

Gas bills of Xenia City patrons of The Ohio Fuel Gas Company will be increased with the passage of an ordinance by the City Commission, Thursday night, providing for the addition of a 50 cent service charge to all consumers.

Passage of the ordinance ended a controversy in the Commission since the ordinance was first introduced in August and was effected after commissioners were led to believe that failure to allow the service charge might impair the gas supply this winter and lead to a rate increase fight before the Public Utilities Commission.

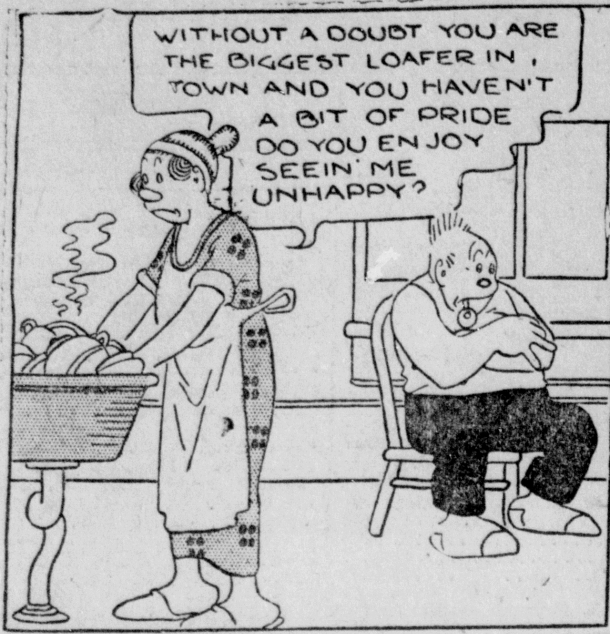

The new ordinance, introduced sometime ago by J. F. Curry, Pittsburgh representative The Ohio Fuel Gas Company, does not change the present rate of 50 cents gross, with a five cent discount if the bill is paid within ten days. The service charge of 50 cents flat is added, it is said, to defray extra costs in experimenting and furnishing gas and taking care of small accounts and will be added to the charge for the first 1,000 feet, making the first 1,000 feet of gas 95 cents net.

Mr. Curry again urged passage of the ordinance at Thursday night's meeting. Commissioners voted to table the ordinance several weeks ago after repeated discussion had failed to disclose a means of avoiding the extra charge. The Commission hoped that one of the cities served by the company would carry the fight to the Utilities Commission and result in a decision from that body. According to the gas company's representative, however, all cities are passing the ordinance as fast as it is presented. Commissioners believe an appeal to the Utilities Commission would not only be fruitless, but that it would lead the company to obtain an entire increase of rate based on charges in other cities. They also expressed themselves as believing the company could easily circumvent the authority of the Utilities Commission to bring about a forced passage of the ordinance.

City Solicitor J. A. Finney attacked the value of the Public Utilities Commission in commenting on the proposed ordinance Thursday night. He interpreted the statements of Mr. Curry that he "didn't know what would happen to Xenia if the ordinance was not passed," as an admission of knowledge that the Utilities Commission would be ineffectual in attempting to carry out the order against discrimination.

Due to the fact that the gas company cannot now say what the condition of the gas market will be in another year and what expense will be necessary in acquiring new wells, the ordinance makes the new charge effective for only one year. Other cities, some of which passed a similar ordinance last spring, possibly have to face a new ordinance next spring, it is said. Xenia's ordinance, effective in 30 days, will assure the new rate for the year 1924. Mr. Curry, however, reminded the commission that Xenia had never had to complain of its gas service, that it has always been

ISSUES APPEAL FOR CHRISTMAS SEALS

Convalescent after a protracted illness, Dr. W. O. Thompson, president of the Ohio State University, who is general chairman of the 1923 Christmas Seal Sale for Ohio, has written the following appeal to all men and women in Ohio engaged in promoting the sixteenth annual sale of Christmas seals.

"This year brings the sixteenth annual sale of Christmas seals in the war upon tuberculosis. The response of the public in past years is your assurance of a welcome in this campaign.

"The decrease in the death rate in Ohio from 150 per hundred thousand people to 85 per hundred thousand last year is the highest justification of the work already done. To continue this work is the cheapest form of combating this most dreaded disease of civilization."

Mrs. C. L. Babb, of South King St., is chairman of the Greene County Seal Sale Drive, which is held under the auspices of the Social Service League. Mrs. Babb has enlisted a corps of workers to assist her in the campaign, which starts, December 1, and lasts through the holidays.

McClelland Neighborhood

Vance Gage left Friday for Ft. Wayne, Ind., where he will be employed in the Pennsylvania shops. Some miscreants entered the McPherson school house and carried off considerable school property. It is to be hoped they will be apprehended as destruction and theft of school property is a serious offense.

Carl Walker, of Xenia, an ex-service man, has been appointed mail carrier on route 4. Lew Troy has been substituted on this route since resignation of Vernon Hampton.

McPherson school is planning a Thanksgiving entertainment and social to be given Tuesday evening, Nov. 27 at Gladys Community Hall. A small admission fee will be charged but refreshments of pie, sandwiches and coffee will be free. The money will go toward the Victrola fund. You are invited.

Miss Mildred McCall is convalescing satisfactorily from an appendicitis operation which she underwent last week. She will resume her school work in the U. P. Mission as soon as she is able. Dr. McCampbell, formerly of Xenia is stationed at this mission as pastor.

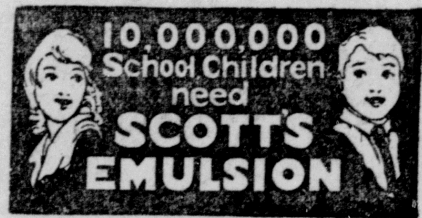

IMPROVEMENT OF STREET ASSURED

Legislation that assures the improvement of Kennedy St., from Washington St., to Cottage Grove Ave., in the Orient Hill section known as "Deweyville," was passed by the City Commission Thursday night.

The legislation included an ordinance to proceed with improvement of the street from Washington Street to Cottage Grove Avenue with a combined curb and gutter and an 18 foot graveled roadway, in accordance with a resolution passed by the Commission, Oct. 11, 1922 and to assess the cost against the property owners.

Another ordinance provided for the issuance of bonds in the sum of $4500 to pay for the improvement in anticipation of special assessments to be collected from the property owners. The bonds are to be in denominations of $500 each and to run ten years, at 5 1/2 per cent interest.

Rules were suspended in the case of each ordinance, and the legislation passed upon its first reading, making it effective immediately.

THE CRUELTY OF WEAKNESS

Chapter 21

As Lee looked into Hugh Green's pale face he knew at once that he could feel nothing but pity for him. He had thought, if he ever came face to face with this man who was making such a living hell of Hope's existence, it would be hard to keep from thrashing him. Now as he looked into Hugh's dull eyes and delicate face he felt instinctively what it was that held Hope.

Hugh Green's face held everything that a woman might love, and a man admire, except strength of purpose. One had the impression looking at him that his possibilities might be boundless. His features were classic. Then suddenly as you looked at his burned out eyes and weak mouth, you knew that the spark of his manhood had slipped out somehow, and that what you saw was only the delicate shell of a man.

Lee stood ill at ease with his tweed cap in one hand and the other extended to Green. He felt a sudden desire to rouse him if possible and make him return to friendliness. But Hugh's hand hesitated, and then touched Lee's reluctantly. It was soft and limp like the hand of a woman.

"How far am I from the other end of the lake?" Lee interrogated, directing his question to Hugh. "I am trying to figure which way around would bring me back the quickest."

But it was Hope that answered, and as Lee turned to her he thought he detected just the lightest quaver in her voice.

"It's nearly three miles back on this side, and you—you'd find it much worse traveling around the other

"I'll bet that's the first three miles I've walked in two years," Lee declared laughing. "Guess I'd better get started back if I want to make it tonight."

"It will get dark quickly now," Hope suggested, and then added hesitatingly. "If you would care to come up to the cabin, Hugh would be glad to lend you the canoe to go back in. Our little camp is just a step from here."

"Thanks for the offer—but I guess I'll hustle on. The walk will do me good."

He saw that Hope had also noticed Hugh's combative manner, and he had the sudden impression that she resented it, and was determined to have her way.

"There is no use in your doing that, really. It would be dark before you reached the end of the lake. Come! You can return the canoe in the morning."

Something in Hope's voice made Lee change his mind: It held that same appealing note which had gripped him the first time they had spoken together.

"Thanks—Green! If you don't object," Lee said, turning toward Hugh, but Hugh's silent, sullen manner made him turn to Hope again. "I guess you'll have to lead the way. I'd have us all lost in a jiffy."

When they reached the little cabin way, she warned.

Hugh spoke for the first time.

"I'll take Mr. Brown down in the canoe. Then he won't have to bother returning it in the morning."

Lee thanked him, but he knew why he had offered. He knew that it was not through courtesy, but because

Green did not intend that he should have any excuse for returning in the morning. He watched Hope's face.

"But—are you equal to it, Hugh?" she suggested softly. "You'll have to paddle back alone, and the wind is pretty strong."

Lee turned away, and walked down to the shore of the little lake. Yet Hope's voice came to him distinctly, and he had the conviction that he would always be able to hear its low, vibrating tones no matter how great a distance lay between them.

"Please, dear! You're not strong enough. Let me go with you then?" She pleaded. "I can help you paddle back."

"No! I'm going," he answered, with an abrupt finality.

It seemed to Lee, standing there waiting below them, that Hugh was taking a heartless sort of pleasure in resisting his wife's concern for him, and that he enjoyed her anxiety. And he began to feel that desire to thrash Hugh Green in spite of the man's weakness and pathetic condition.

CHICAGO POLICE ALLEGE MASTER MIND IS HELD IN $2,000,000 ROBBERY

New Developments Mark Investigation of Werner
Brother Warehouse Robbery—Recover Large
Sums in Gems and Securities.

Chicago, Nov. 23.—Recovery of $25,000 in gems and $6,000 in war savings stamps from what police termed "one of the eight secret homes of Dr. Spencer Brown," and the announcement, following a new arrest, that the evidence would be ready for the grand jury today, marked developments in the investigation of the Werner Brothers Warehouse robbery.

A new list issued by the Pinkerton detective agency in the bold coup of Ova-acetylene bandits a month ago brought estimates of the total loot to $2,000,000 with nearly a million in jewels missing in addition to the million and a quarter in negotiable securities warehouse officials admitted were taken.

Dr. Brown, arrested on a mysterious telephone tip, has admitted to police he was a "master mind" but denied all connection with the gigantic robbery.

The war savings stamps held by police were seized in a raid on one of Dr. Brown's town homes in Antioch, where evidence was discovered leading to the recovery from a safety deposit vault in an Antioch bank of a $25,000 pearl necklace, concealed in a box of complexion powder.

Brown has boasted to police of his "secret homes," protection from invasion by trick entrances similar to those police found in the Antioch residence. Some of the stamps recovered were enclosed in an envelope marked "these can be changed to go," while others discolored by the steaming with which they had been removed from the cards to which they ordinarily are affixed were marked "N. G."

Frank Miller, latest arrest in the investigation, was being closely questioned to the grand jury.

It was believed that Thor Wassburg and Graham McGill, bond salesman, arrested early in the inquiry, would be among those to testify.

NEW YORK NOT TO HAVE DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL MEETING

Washington, Nov. 23.—With New York City practically eliminated from serious consideration, other cities which had retired from the contest are in the open again fighting for the 1924 Democratic national convention.

The struggle will be intensified after the Republican national committee on Dec. 11 formally announces the selection of Chicago for the Republican convention. A Republican sub-committee already has approved and selection of Chicago, and the announcement following the meeting of full committee is regarded as a foregone conclusion.

St. Louis, Louisville, Denver and Atlanta were in the field for the Democratic convention when New York entered the contest with the declaration that a fund of $500,000 would be raised in order to obtain the meeting. This declaration frightened off the other four competitors and also killed interest in Cleveland and Washington, both of which had made inquiries as to the requirements asked of the convention city. New York, however, in the opinion of Democratic leaders, has failed to make good. The $500,000 fund dropped by stages to $250,000, with the additional restriction that the money would be available only for the actual expenses of the convention. This restriction, which included a provision for the handling of the fund by a New York committee, made practically certain the elimination of New York from the contest.

TAX REDUCTION TO BE AID TO FARMER

Pittsburgh, Nov. 23.—Reduction in taxation will continue to keep the county prosperous, in the opinion of Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon, who is in Pittsburgh. "A reduction of taxes will work toward the improvement of the condition of the farmer," said Secretary Mellon. "Lower taxation will help to lower costs. The railroads will obtain lower money rates with which to make improvements and carry on their business, with the result that the burden taken off will work out to the benefit of the ultimate consumer. However, as far as my suggestions are concerned, regarding the proposed reduction in income, that matter is in the hands of the ways and means committee, and it no doubt will be touched upon by President Coolidge in his forthcoming message to congress."

SNAP SHOTS

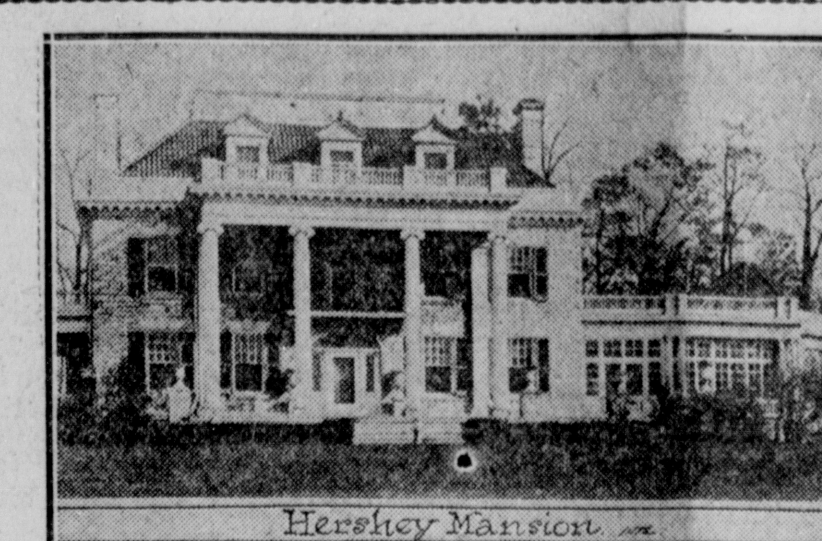

At Philadelphia Mrs. Rose Campbell, 32, was found dead with a bullet wound in her body. Her husband, Lafayette Campbell, suffering from a wound, said his wife did the shooting. Jurors at Greensburg, Pa., acquitted two women charged with first degree murders. As a result, Mrs. Amelia Boyer and Miss Maria Chischoy, 18, are free. Mrs. Boyer was charged with shooting her husband following a separation, and Miss Chischoy with slaying her sweetheart in her home. Alonzo Savage, Negro "voodoo doctor" was found guilty at Pittsburgh of first degree murder by a jury trying him for the slaying of Elsie Barthel, nurse.

Four-year-old Betty Harris shot and killed her father, Walter C. Harris, sportsman, banker and clubman, Duluth, Minn. Harris had been cleaning his rifle and playfully permitted the child to pull the trigger.

COREY'S WIFE GETS DIVORCE

Paris, Nov. 23.—Mrs. William Ellis Corey, wife of the well known American steel manufacturer, was granted a divorce here. Mrs. Corey's maiden name was Mabel Gilman. She was an actress. She charged her husband with desertion. They had been married in New York on May 14, 1907. The plaintiff was Corey's second wife.

"WHITE HOUSE" OF HERSHEY ESTATE

The mansion pictured here is the palatial home of Milton S. Hershey, "Chocolate King," of Hershey, Pa. Mr. Hershey has given his entire personal fortune of $50,000,000 to the Orphans' Industrial School he founded near his home. After Mr. Hershey's death the mansion too, will form part of the school.

SEARCH CONTINUES FOR MISSING FARMER: BLACKMAIL CHARGE FILED

Medina, Nov. 23.—The Ku Klux Klan has volunteered to assist in the hunt for Fred Thompson, Sharon Center farmer, who has been missing from home for 25 days. A Mr. Freese, avowed official of the Medina Klan, announced today that the "secret service organization" of his society would do everything to assist local authorities to clear up the mystery. Freese is the klansman mentioned in the signed confession made yesterday by Mrs. Lucile Renner, in which she admitted indiscretions with Thompson and mentioned a dozen other women of this community as having been too friendly with the missing man.

The confession exonerated the Klan of sending notes to Thompson and his wife, warning him to leave the county on pain of severe punishment for his conduct. These missives were signed "K. K. K." but Mrs. Renner now admits having prepared some of them herself, with the aid of a public stenographer, in order to frighten Thompson into leaving and thus freeing her of having his baneful influence.

County authorities have clamped the lid down on the investigation and decline to say why the blackmail charge was placed against the woman and appear reticent about disclosing any developments in the case.

It is still firmly believed by some officials close to the investigation that Thompson has been slain, either by some one jealous of his influence, or by the numerous women mentioned in Mrs. Renner's confession or to prevent his exposing his alleged victims or doing them harm, as Mrs. Renner said he threatened to do to her, if her friendship with him ever became public.

LAUNCH DRIVE AGAINST LEADERS OF NATION'S BOOTLEG INDUSTRY

Washington, Nov. 23.—The department of justice revealed for the first time that a force of the best detectives in America has worked its way into the inner councils of the bootleg ring and will shortly land the leaders into United States courts.

It was this same force that succeeded in securing 126 indictments in Savannah, and from that point wormed its way into the confidence of the men said to be responsible for 80 per cent of dry law violations, it was declared.

The record of their exploits and the ramifications of the illegal traffic, as disclosed by William J. Burns, chief of the bureau of investigation, shows an adventure that dwarfs anything conceived in fiction. It also makes known for the first time that this latest blow at the rum traffic was conducted independently of the prohibition bureau.

"For the last six months the men who are rounding up the bootlegging ring have had their lives in their hands," said Mr. Burns. "Most of them are right now in places where they would be killed if their identity should become known. It is one thing to detect a bootlegger from the outside. That is safe. But it is an extremely dangerous thing to work from the inside."

WALTON INDICTED BY GRAND JURY CHARGED WITH FELONY IN STOPPING LEGISLATURE

Court House, Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 23.—J. C. Walton, deposed governor of Oklahoma was indicted by the Oklahoma grand jury today. Eight true bills were returned against him. One indictment charged felony, that of stopping the Oklahoma Legislature on September 26. The others were misdemeanors, charging padding of state payrolls, and one was of intimidating officials.

Dr. A. E. Davenport, state health commissioner and T. P. Edwards, the former governor's chauffeur, also were indicted and charged with a felony. The charges against the latter two was diverting state funds through Edwards' being an employee of the State Health Department and on the governor's staff as a major in the National Guard, without rendering any service to the state.

The former governor with three of his counsel was on hand to make bond as soon as the true bills were recorded with the district court.

WOMAN AWARDED $50,000

Cleveland, Nov. 23.—Mrs. Anna M. Neiswiter, 46, of North Olmstead, was awarded a $50,000 verdict against the Cleveland, Southwestern and Columbus Railway company by Judge Frank C. Phillips. Mrs. Neiswiter alleged that June 19, 1920, while in the basement of her house she came in contact with a wire connecting a toy telegraph set with which the wire of the house had been crossed by the company's wire carrying 2,300 volts. Mrs. Neiswiter was rendered unconscious for eight hours.

DEATON NAMED AS PROBER

Columbus, Nov. 23.—Attorney General Crabbe announced the appointment of former State Senator Sherman S. Deaton, Urbana, as special counsel for the state in conducting an investigation of alleged laxity of law enforcement in Steubenville and Jefferson County. Deaton served in a similar capacity for the state in an investigation some months ago of the Dr. Walker murder at Alliance.

STRESEMANN DEMANDS VOTE OF CONFIDENCE; FACES DEFEAT

HOUSE PROGRESSIVES WILL LAY PLANS IN BATTLE FOR CONTROL

Washington, Nov. 23.—The strategic plan of the Progressive group in the House of Representatives for their forthcoming fight with the regular Republican organization will be drawn up at a conference to be held here next week in advance of the Republican caucus, scheduled for December 1, it was learned today.

Discussing the plans of the progressive today, Representative John M. Nelson of Wisconsin, confirmed the reports that the organization of the House for business will be blocked until concessions have been made to the Progressives through support of Representatives Henry Allen Cooper, of Wisconsin, for speaker. This is expected to prevent

Fresh Disorders Reported
In Ruhr—Many Killed And Wounded

Berlin, Nov. 23.—The German Reichstag this afternoon rejected a resolution expressing confidence in the government of Chancellor Gustav Stresemann. The vote was: For the motion 155 votes. Against the motion 230 votes. Abstainers 7.

Berlin, Nov. 23.—Chancellor Gustav Stresemann, appeared before the Reichstag today with a demand for a clean cut vote of confidence in his government. Vote on the Nationalists motion expressing a lack of confidence in the Stresemann cabinet, had been put over from yesterday until today.

"Three resolutions have now been introduced and they are misleading; I demand a full and clear declaration whether or not the Reichstag has confidence in this government," said the chancellor.

Stresemann said he refused to remain in office by virtue of "the trick of political arithmetic."

The three resolutions or "votes" as he termed them, were introduced by the nationalists, communists and socialists.

The German peoples party, the Centrists and the Democrats issued a joint resolution expressing confidence in the ministry and the chancellor demanded an immediate vote upon this resolution.

When the session opened it appeared that the Stresemann government was facing defeat.

As the deputies assembled, word was received of fresh disorders in the Ruhr in which many persons were killed and wounded.

LEGISLATURE OF OKLAHOMA FAVORS ANTI-KLAN BILL

Oklahoma City, Nov. 23.—Arguments to the Anti-Klux Klan Bill, sponsored by the senate and house joint committee when it was presented in the senate. The debate developed, however, that there is strong sentiment for such legislation. The objection to the measure was that it would be unfair to organizations other than the Klan. The Klan will be unmasked, that's certain. Every member of the legislature advocated that. But the light is over the question of whether or not the membership lists shall be certified and recorded periodically by county and state officials. Recording means endless expense. It is believed that the bill will be so amended as to require a county and state record of lodge officials, who must keep complete lists of membership, which shall be available whenever demanded by proper authorities.

MAY CURB POWER OF FEDERAL JUSTICES

Washington, Nov. 23.—The 60-day jail sentence for contempt of court imposed against Comptroller Charles L. Craig of New York city and affirmed Monday by the United States supreme court, will result in a demand at the coming session of congress for legislation to curb the power of federal judges in contempt cases.

Senator Norris, Republican, member of the senate judiciary committee, who before coming to congress was for seven years a judge of the Nebraska state courts, declared: "The almost unlimited power of federal judges to hold in contempt persons against whom they may take offense because of some word or act displeasing to the court, ought to be curbed. In fact, I am strongly for curbing the broad powers of the federal courts in a great many respects. I think congress should take up this question and I am certain it will be done."

Senator Walsh, Democrat of Montana, also a member of the senate judiciary committee, declared he would favor legislation by congress to require trial by jury of alleged contempt not committed in the presence of the court.

SAYS FORD WILL SEEK HIGH OFFICE

Detroit, Nov. 23.—Henry Ford will and must run for the presidency, but it would be inadvisable for him to announce his candidacy now, according to Judge Edward J. Jeffries, speaking at the Detroit Ford-for-President club meeting. "Wall street interests in control of the Democratic party are deeply concerned in keeping Mr. Ford out of the nomination," the judge declared. "The important thing now for those favoring Mr. Ford for president is to center sentiment and find means of nominating him. Ford for president organizations should be organized all over the United States. Mr. Ford at the present time could not go into a Democratic convention and win the vote necessary to nominate him. There is no doubt the Republicans will nominate Mr. Coolidge. He is safe, sane and sound from their angle. He is safe, sane and sound for Wall street."

FIREY CROSS BLAMED

Gallipolis, O., Nov. 23.—The Lincoln public school for negroes here was damaged by fire. The blaze, according to firemen, started from a very cross. It was the second call of the kind in a week. Police are investigating.

CONFESSION MADE BY SUSPECT AFTER GRILLING IS CLAIM

Caldwell, O., Nov. 23.—George Zeibenschuh one of the two men held in the Noble County Jail in connection with the murder of Sheriff Charles W. Moore, early Tuesday morning, was to be grilled by state and county officials today, following what, officers say is a complete confession made by Elmer Farra, the other suspect late yesterday. Both men are from Byesville and were arrested there a few hours after the sheriff's murder.

Farra, grilled for four and a half hours, is said to have admitted being in the car when the sheriff was killed, but denied firing the shot and asserted that he did not know who did it.

"What shall we do now? Dead men tell no tales," he is said to have quoted Zeibenschuh as saying, after three shots rang out in the early morning air in the Caldwell square, when Sheriff Moore told them "they might as well stop the rest of the night with him."

The gun believed to have been used in the killing was found yesterday by the two state agents sent here by Governor Donahey to assist in probing the murder.

NORTHWEST NOT TO SUPPORT OLD LINE CANDIDATES, BELIEF

Washington, Nov. 23.—Candidates for the presidency running on either the Republican or Democratic tickets need not look for any support from voters in the Farmer-Labor movement in states of the northwest.

On the other hand entrance into a Republican or Democratic primary will spoil all chances that candidates might have had in receiving any Farmer-Labor votes.

This is the latest word from the seat of the Farmer-Labor insurrection, brought to the capital by Senator Henrik Shipstead, one of the two senators chosen by the Farmer-Labor party in Minnesota, Magnus Johnson being the other.

Shipstead declared that the voters who quit the old parties to go into the Farmer-Labor movement are so enamored of their new association that they simply will not go into a Republican or Democratic primary. He opined that not even Senator Robert M. LaFollette, who has a large following among the Farmer-Labor supporters, could carry Minnesota as a Republican presidential candidate.

As a third party candidate, however, he could sweep the state," Shipstead said. "Throughout the entire northwest there is a strong sentiment in favor of putting a third party candidate in the field."

Berlin, Nov. 23.—"Germany's internal situation is hopeless. I say this in all candor. I see no way in which Germany's desolate situation can even in a small degree be improved."

This was the keynote of Chancellor Stresemann's speech in the reichstag where in "open battle" he defended his administration.

The chancellor dwelt on the internal strife, discord and disunion. "There is hardly a country in the world so cleft with socialistic and political conflicts as the German reich," he said. He emphasized the possibility of any government accomplishing anything constructive in such internal combinations, in addition to France's pressure from without.

"Swan song" was the expression heard on the floor of the reichstag when Stresemann rose to speak against the expected resolutions for a vote of lack of confidence. The chancellor was on the defensive throughout and developed no new constructive thought or idea. He was very frank in saying that he had none, and defied anyone else to formulate a policy that promised to bring Germany out of the present economic and political chaos.

Touching newspaper reports about foreign loans and credits, Stresemann declared that but one group of foreign financiers had approached the government to offer credit, and that offer was through the head of the league of German agrarian interests, and was for $250,000,000 for the new gold currency bank.

The chancellor spoke for two hours, in the course of which he even attacked the right wing of his own party. "It took five whole years to realize that we lost the war," said Stresemann, "and now the time has come to liquidate." He declared that the French policy "favors the development of extremism in Germany," and accused France of breaking her promise regarding the resumption of negotiations with Germany within 24 hours after Germany abandoned passive resistance in the Ruhr.

Stresemann declared that he "takes full responsibility for the central government's policy toward Bavaria," and stated that "constitutional conditions will be restored in Bavaria at any cost." He added that the government will not cancel the state military emergency in the reich until stable conditions have been restored.

LUDWIGSHAFEN, NOV. 23—GERMAN SEPARATISTS SEIZED THIS CITY TODAY.

SLUGGED AND ROBBED

Cincinnati, Nov. 23.—Two youthful bandits, one armed with a pistol and the other with a blackjack, beat and robbed Dr. Louis Grear at his office in Loveland, near this city. With their victim stunned, the bandits tore a diamond suit valued at $300 from his shirt, stole his watch, a wallet containing about $200, a leather case filled with surgical instruments and escaped.

ADDRESSES XENIA STUDENTS ON DRY LAW ENFORCEMENT

"The crusade today is for the milk bottle against the beer bottle, for that greatest of all institutions, the American Home, against the drinking places," said Miss Georgia Hopley of Washington, D. C., in addressing the pupils of the Central High School and East High School Thursday.

Miss Hopley is the only woman under Federal Prohibition Commissioner Haynes employed by the Government in this department of work. She is from the Constructive Information Bureau at Washington and has been taking advantage of American Education week to present the work which has been done with Prohibition only partially enforced and what can and must be done to insure further benefits through the enforcement of the Prohibition Amendment.

"The important feature of the enforcement of the Prohibition Amendment today said Miss Hopley, 'is the education of the people. The whole campaign is one of education and it is up to all of us to teach both the children and the adult just what are the issues involved in this question. It is the duty of those of us who do believe in law and order versus lawlessness to state our case so clearly and convincingly that a new generation will grow up with a clear understanding of the real shame of the conditions as they exist today. The way to get rid of the darkness is to turn on the light and education is light. The anti-dote for anti-prohibition is facts, administered in homeopathic doses."

Among the homeopathic doses administered by Miss Hopley was the statement that drink has filled more graves than all the wars. That while $8,250,000 is the sum allotted for the work of the Federal Prohibition Unit drink formerly cost the nation $2,000,000,000 annually which would have built 325,600 homes at $3,800 each was three times the amount spent on schools and twice the value of all the church property.

Liquor appetites were being created while today they are being cured. There has been outlawed 177,790 saloons, 1,090 breweries and 236 distilleries. There was formerly manufactured annually 19½ million gallons of real beer while today there is manufactured 1½ million gallons of near beer. Connie Mack, the great base ball magnate has said all the umpires together haven't put out of the game as many men as old man booze.

During the recent Harding campaign Miss Hopley was in charge of the publicity work of the State with headquarters at Columbus at which time Miss Hallie Q. Brown of Wilberforce, was associated at headquarters in the capacity as state organizer and speaker.

Miss Hopley visited Wilberforce while here and will return early in the year to address the students.

LABOR IN COAL BUSINESS

Cleveland, Nov. 23.—Labor is in the coal business in Cleveland, furnishing coal from the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers' Coal River Collieries company mines in West Virginia, delivered to consumers here at $7.50 a ton. The price is about $5 below the price asked by private coal retailers in Cleveland, according to Albert F. Coyle, secretary.

PARDON SOUGHT FOR CRAIG

Washington, Nov. 23.—A movement to secure a presidential pardon for Charles L. Craig, New York comptroller, under sentence for contempt, was launched at the white house and department of justice by Edward P. Doyle, who claimed to be an attorney working in the interest of Mr. Craig. Mr. Doyle put the case directly up to President Coolidge.

A WOMAN'S WAY

"I tried for four months to get my wife to try May's Wonderful Remedy, which I know had helped a friend of mine who also suffered from stomach trouble. She insisted her case was different. I finally had to bribe her with a new dress. The first dose produced remarkable results, clearing up her complexion and restoring her appetite. She can now eat things she hadn't been able to for many years." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Sold by Sayre and Hemphill and druggists everywhere.

Beauty for Girls

Youth for women—Let me show you how
By Edna Wallace Hopper

For 40 years I have a famous beauty. Now, at the age of 62, I am the most talked-about woman in America as an example of perennial youth.

The reason is this: My mother and I, many years ago, searched the world to find the best beauty helps in existence. They multiplied my beauty, and I became the rage. They have kept my beauty to a grand old age.

I am convinced that these helps can bring like results to millions. And I have decided to enable all to get them.

EASY, SIMPLE WAYS

I do about what you do. But the difference is that I employ the best helps science knows.

You use clay, perhaps. Any woman who omits it does herself injustice. But you use crude and muddy clays which I quit years ago. I use a modern clay, white, refined and dainty. A clay perfected by 20 years of scientific study.

Mine I call my White Youth Clay. It is fully ten times as efficient as ordinary clays. The new complexion that it brings amazes and delights. Many women in 30 minutes seem to drop ten years.

Clay brings rosy, clear complexions. It takes out the causes of blackheads and blemishes. It firms the skin, combats all lines and wrinkles. The women who employ it stand out in every crowd.

But my White Youth Clay is a superclay—the last word in facial clays. It brings multiplied results. The cost is 50 cents and $1.

THE SUPREME CREAMS

You use creams, no doubt. I spent a fortune to secure the best creams in existence.

My Youth Cream is a cold cream, containing both lemon and strawberry. Also all the best that science knows to foster and feed the skin texture.

I apply it after my clay. Also as a night cream. Also daytimes as a powder base. It is ever-present, to whiten, soften and preserve my skin. I have never known another cream which brought any like results.

I clean my skin with my Facial Youth. That is a liquid cleanser which I found long ago in France. Now leading beauty experts everywhere employ it.

It contains no animal, no vegetable fat. The skin cannot absorb it. But it enters the pores and cleans the skin to the depths. Nothing else in all the world can clean the skin as this does.

My Facial Youth sells for 75 cents. The identical formula by great beauty experts, is everywhere sold at $3.

FOR BEAUTIFUL HAIR

My hair is my greatest glory. It is thick and lustrous, and grows finer every year. Never have I known a falling hair, dandruff or gray hair.

This is due to my Hair Youth, which France perfected for me. I apply it with an eye dropper, directly to the scalp. It keeps the scalp clean and the hair roots stimulated. I have brought beautiful hair to countless friends by giving them this method. It costs 50 cents and $1.

All druggists and toilet counters supply the beauty helps I use. Go try them. Each will bring you rich rewards. I am very glad to enable you to get them. Edna Wallace Hopper, Business address, Waukesha, Wis.

NOVEMBER MEETING OF MISSIONARY SOCIETY

Mrs. E. C. Moorman of North King Street, graciously welcomed forty-two members of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First United Presbyterian Church, at the November meeting, Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. A. M. Patterson presided and Mrs. W. J. Cherry had charge of the devotions, which were made impressive by a series of prayers exhibiting the Thanksgiving spirit and citing a number of Scripture verses asking the guests to locate them.

The president of the society read a number of tributes received by Dr. A. M. Patterson in memory of the Rev. Harry K. Wright, a missionary to Shanghai, China, for twenty-one years, and whose sudden death in the midst of a remarkable and useful career, caused great sorrow to his fellow laborers. He and Dr. Patterson, were life-long friends. The Rev. Mr. Wright was the son of the Rev. J. H. Wright who will be remembered as pastor of the First Church from 1840 to 1889.

The usual business was transacted, different reports including that of the Presbyterian meeting at Clifton, being read. A sum of money was ordered sent to the Indian Missions in Tama, Iowa, in charge of the Rev. R. G. Smith, and wife for their Thanksgiving dinner.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Walter Dean, assisted by Mrs. J. Carl Marshall, each reading a paper from the Mission Study "Life in India." A questionnaire on the same subject was conducted.

A social hour was enjoyed honoring the new pastor, the Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Lytle. Refreshments were served by the Executive Committee during which time Mrs. W. J. Cherry sang two solos, of her own composition "The Seal Lullaby" and "Sundown." Mrs. John M. Davidson, sang two solos, "Thy Beaming Eyes" and "The Swan Bent Low to the Lily" by Edward McDowell.

The December meeting of the society will be held at the home of Mrs. D. S. Ervin.

EVENING PARTY ENJOYED BY THIMBLE CLUB MEMBERS

Twenty-five members and visitors of Obelisk Thimble Club were entertained at the home of Mrs. George Pillsbury, assisted by Mrs. H. L. Cleaver, Thursday evening.

After the regular business meeting music, games and contests were enjoyed by the guests. Refreshments were served later in the evening.

Mrs. Asa Price and Mrs. Harry Karch will entertain the members at an all-day meeting at the home of Mrs. Price, December 7, at which time comforts will be knitted.

GIVEN SURPRISE ON WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Twenty friends and neighbors of Mrs. Clarence Jeffries, arranged a merry surprise at her home on West Main Street, Wednesday evening, on the occasion of her wedding anniversary. The guests gathered at the home of Mrs. William McKinney, and later went to the Jeffries home.

Refreshments, games and a social time were enjoyed.

EAVEY OFFICE FORCE ENTERTAINED

The office force of the Eavey Wholesale Grocery Company, was delightfully entertained at dinner at home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Stephenson on Collier Street, Wednesday evening.

A delicious four-course dinner was served, covers being laid for the following, the Misses Ruth Arment, Kathryn Kennedy, Mrs. Elizabeth Anderson, Thelma Anderson, Messrs. Billy Anderson, James Paulin, Helen Smith, Florence Stephenson, Elizabeth Stephenson and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Stephenson.

PAST COUNCILLORS MEET

Eight members of the Past Councillors' Club of Pride of Xenia Council No. 140, Daughters of America, were entertained by Mrs. Harry Greene at her home on West Second Street, on Wednesday afternoon. At the business meeting, plans were laid for a market.

BANQUET FOLLOWS MEETING

A delicious banquet followed the regular team practice and business meeting of Pride of Xenia Council, No. 140, Daughters of America, at the Junior Order Hall, Thursday evening. Dancing and a social time followed the banquet.

XENIA DANCING CLUB

The Xenia Dancing Club members will enjoy another affair, at the Elks' Club, Monday evening, Nov. 26, at eight-thirty o'clock.

GORHAM-KELBLE PARTY FOR MISS GRAHAM

Miss Alsetta Gorham and Miss Katherine Kelble charmingly entertained at the home of Miss Gorham on Mechanic Street, Thursday evening, for the pleasure of Miss Anna Graham, Thanksgiving Day bride-elect.

Fourteen girls were received, who "showered" Miss Graham with a miscellaneous array of gifts. Games, music and singing were enjoyed and in a group of three contests, the Misses Mary Crow, Margaret Shelley and Miss Graham, the honor guest, won prizes. A pretty luncheon course was served.

A profusion of yellow chrysanthemums bout the rooms, and other appointments of the party, carried out a color scheme of yellow and lavender.

O. E. S. THIMBLE CLUB ENTERTAINED THURSDAY

A series of Thanksgiving contests was enjoyed by forty members of Aldora Chapter, No. 262, Order of the Eastern Star Thimble Club, at the home of Mrs. A. E. Faulker on West Second Street, Thursday afternoon. Prizes were awarded the winner in the various contests. A delicious refreshments course was served, and an informal social time enjoyed.

Mrs. Faulker's assistants were Mrs. Frank Shelley, Mrs. H. E. Schmidt, Mrs. Emma Eley, Mrs. Carl Knisley, Mrs. Elmer Wood, Mrs. R. A. Tull and Mrs. Frank Wolf and Miss Edna Miller.

AFTERNOON PARTY FOR BRIDE-ELECT

Complimenting Miss Mildred Adams whose marriage to Mr. Phillip Linski, of near Dayton, will be solemnized near Christmas, Mrs. Mildred Foster, entertained at a pretty miscellaneous "shower" a the home of her mother, Mrs. R. E. Corry, in Yellow Springs, Saturday afternoon.

Twenty-four young women were received who presented Miss Adams with many lovely gifts. The afternoon was spent with contests and knotting a comfort for the honor guest. Refreshments were served with attractive appointments.

NEW LAMP BURNS 94% AIR

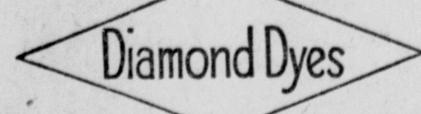

Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent air and 6 per cent common kerosene (coal oil.)

The inventor, E. A. Johnson, 609 W. Lake St., Chicago, Ill., is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

IN THE SIXTY YEARS SINCE GETTYSBURG.

Sixty years ago, November 19, Abraham Lincoln made his immortal speech at Gettysburg. There were only twenty-nine lines in the crumpled first manuscript of that address, nine sentences and 250 words.

The listening crowd, close-necked around the platform, was surprised by its shortness. It was given after the long address by Edward Everett, a now-forgotten effort of rolling periods and classical allusions. It is recorded that the thousands who had gathered on Cemetery Hill seemed disappointed in the brief, simple speech of the President.

Yet the Everett address has gone from men's minds, and those 250 simple words of Lincoln stand out in letters of fire against the shadowy background of the War Between the States. They have come to ring more and more powerfully out of those clamorous times. Wherever English is read or spoken, they echo on and on over the world. School children memorize them and statesmen having a faith in humanity ponder them when dangers threaten.

Six decades and a thousand threats to "government of the people, by the people, for the people," have come and gone since Lincoln stood in the pale November sunshine at Gettysburg. Great as it was, the war that was raging then was no more than a skirmish in the long battle for human freedom that stretches back into the ages. Since Gettysburg it has gone on, with democracy now advancing, now retreating and again advancing over the world. Moving unevenly, nevertheless, the line of its advance has gone a long way forward since November 19, 1863.

Autocracy the world over has steadily receded toward the shadows and the dust in the last sixty years. The Romanoffs are gone and their cheap successors, with their shoddy blood-stained tyranny, will follow them. In the long run, however, they may threaten in Europe's present malaise, but the Hapsburgs and Hohenzollerns must go. Bonapartes and Bourbons alike have vanished from the stage of France and the Old World.

The dictators of today? These Lenines and Trotskys of Russia, these Mussolinis of Italy, these Riveras of Spain, are no more than the small dust in the balances of the years. The stars in their courses fight against such as these. So long as men will dedicate themselves as Lincoln dedicated himself and his Nation to "the great task," so long as the world shall "highly resolve" that its dead in the name of freedom "shall not have died in vain," no dictator can last and autocracy cannot for long lift its hateful hand—Public Ledger.

THE TRUTH ABOUT OUR EUROPEAN TRADE.

The cry continues to go up that American prosperity is dependent upon the restoration of normal industrial conditions in Europe, and therefore that it is worth, in dollars and cents, the risk of our own safety to involve ourselves in European political complications in order that we may enlarge our markets abroad. What are the facts?

We are shipping today to Europe from five to sixteen times as much of various kinds of foodstuffs as we did before the war. Europe today takes half our exports, to the total of a billion and a half dollars annually.

Great Britain is exporting only 10 per cent less than before the war, and importing 2 1/2 per cent less. France is exporting and importing more in volume than before the war. Europe is not so bad off financially as our alarmists would have us believe, nor is she losing in her commercial transactions with the United States, since our balance of trade is wiped out by freights, expenditures for foreign travel, remittances of emigrants, exports of capital and other transactions.

There is a steady upward trend in our exports. They are 60 per cent greater than at any time before the war.

The cry that it is necessary for the United States to act as a policeman and banker for Europe is merely a part of the pernicious propaganda put out by the internationalists, some of whom are inspired by sordid and others by visionary motives.

THE MEXICAN ELECTION.

As Mexico enters upon its presidential campaign the Obregon administration definitely puts itself behind the candidacy of General Calles. President Obregon is not content to recommend Calles to the voters, but attacks without mercy the other candidate, Senor de la Huerta, whom he accuses of shameless graft and corruption.

De la Huerta is a former political friend of President Obregon and was for several years secretary of finance in his cabinet. Now it is charged that he has misappropriated several millions of dollars that should have been used to pay off the foreign debt of Mexico, and he is accused of keeping on the public payroll great numbers of men whose only duty was to run the De la Huerta political machine.

The former secretary of finance is not without active and useful friends, who are very angry over the interference of the government in the campaign; and, since Mexican politicians do not always confine themselves to debating public affairs from the platform, there is a chance that the coming campaign will be fought out with arms as well as with ballots.

"GO ON UP THERE!"

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

A delightful musicale was enjoyed at the O. S. and S. O. Home Tuesday when Prof. John H. Weldig the Dayton representative of the Aeolian Company gave a recital by means of the piano, at which he presided. Mrs. W. H. McGervey sang, accompanied by the pianola. Nearly all of last week agents of the Mormon church were in the East End making a house to house canvass to their faith. The residents near heard of a Mormon preacher and gave "further notice."

Everything seems to be pointing to a fine game for the big football game tomorrow. The barometer says fine weather, both for the players and the crowd.

Today's Talk

BIGNESS AND BITTERNESS

I read the other day that bigness and bitterness never went together.

NEW BURLINGTON

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Mitchner had for their guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jones and son, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jones, Herman Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Compton and Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Blair and daughter.

Thomas Harlan of Miamisburg, was the guest of his mother, Mrs. A. H. Harlan a few days the past week.

Frank Blair of Dayton spent several days the past week at his home here.

There are several cases of mumps and scarlet fever in our community.

Rev. Curless and family visited friends at Blanchester the past week.

Mrs. Zimri Haines is ill with an attack of the grip.

Earl, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Waldron, east of town, died Saturday of abscess of the brain and was buried at the cemetery here Monday.

The services were held at the home in charge of Rev. Curless, pastor of the M. E. Church.

The Aid Society of the M. E. Church will meet Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Jennie Davis, near Roxanna.

Mrs. Ervin Blair is confined to her home with mumps.

The Young Married People's class of the M. E. Sabbath School, with well filled baskets, gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Davis, near Roxanna, Sunday Nov. 11. The Davis family will move soon to a farm near Waynesville.

Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Miller and daughter were guests Sunday of Mrs. Elsie Scroggy at Wilmington.

Mrs. William Blair spent the past week at the home of her brother Elmer Mills near Xenia.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Compton entertained the members of the Christian Endeavor Society at their home west of town Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Compton spent several days this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Evan Bogan.

The all day service which was to have been held at the Friends Church Sunday has been postponed on account of sickness among the children.

I can't see how they could. You can't mix milk and vinegar and expect a very happy combination.

Bigness ploughs right through bitterness. And when you are big enough you have no bitterness at all in your heart, toward life or toward anyone in life.

Bitterness does nothing but destroy. Bigness does nothing but build.

It is not always easy to be magnanimous and big, but that is what creates bigness—going through difficult things and experiences and then coming out big, softened and cleansed in character and worth.

If anyone ever had excuses for becoming bitter, it was Lincoln, as he sought to deal fairly with a divided nation as well as with those about him who were not always fair and big. There was much bitterness, but his bigness rose above it all.

There are those who have bitter thoughts, but bitterness in the heart can never produce anything but unhappiness, ill health and failure.

I can see no note of bitterness in nature. All seems big and serene.

Only in these highly organized human bodies of ours does there seem to be place for discord and bitterness. I have often wondered why this is. Perhaps it is so that bigness may take on larger scope and tower above all else.

Banish bitterness from your heart, my friend. Be big. Lift up your head, and see how much greater the world looks when you are big.

PATRIOTISM

One need not hate an alien land to be
A staunch and true defender of his own.
I hold my country first, and make it known
By all the strength which God has given me.
I never raise my eyes her flag to see
But what my love and gratitude are shown,
A fairer banner winds have never blown
Above a temple spire or ship at sea.

Yet I can breathe my love of this, my land,
And count the blessings which have made her great.
Rejoice that I am hers and that I stand
Each day within the shelter of her gate.

Can give her all my love and service, and
Still speak of alien countries without hate.

DIES IN LEBANON

Greene County relatives have received word of the death of Mrs. Walter St. John of Lebanon which occurred Monday. Funeral service took place Thursday. Mrs. St. John had been ill a long time. Mr. St. John died a year ago.

COLLISION PROVES FATAL

Eaton, O., Nov. 22.—After conversing with physicians for 30 minutes after his automobile was wrecked by a railroad train here, Ora Flora, 39, prominent farmer of this city, died. Death was due to shock, the physicians said, as he had sustained no broken bones or visible injuries.

WE REMEMBER

A Conservative Financial Institution Always Remembers. The Public Frequently Forgets.

How easily and how soon, as a people, we forget great public money losses. We are startled at the time. We condemn the bad judgment, the disregard of safe rules of finance that caused them. Then they pass into history and are almost forgotten.

The Conservative financial institution never forgets. It always steers by the age-old beacons of safety. It never offers a return greater than experience shows can be steadily and safely earned. It pays to be safe.

FIERY, ITCHY SKIN QUICKLY SOOTHED WITH SULPHUR

Mentho-Sulphur, a pleasant cream, will soothe and heal skin that is irritated or broken out with eczema; that is covered with ugly rash or pimples, or is rough or dry. Nothing subdues fiery skin eruptions so quickly, says a noted skin specialist.

The moment this sulphur preparation is applied the itching stops and after two or three applications, the eczema is gone and the skin is delightfully clear and smooth. Sulphur is so precious as a skin remedy because it destroys the parasites that cause the burning, itching or disfigurement. Mentho-Sulphur always heals eczema right up.

A small jar of Rowles' Mentho-Sulphur may be had at any good drug store.

TAXI OPERATOR FINED

Curtis Hale, operator of a taxicab line was fined $10 and costs by Judge E. D. Smith in Police Court Friday morning on affidavit based on an old city ordinance forbidding taxi operators to solicit passengers on the platform of the Pennsylvania Railroad Depot.

Hale was arrested more than a week ago on a warrant sworn out by Daniel Donovan, operator of the fellow Cab Company, charging that Hale invaded the platform to solicit passengers alighting from trains in violation of the ordinance. The ordinance itself is of several years' standing and was originally drawn up and passed at the request of the railroad company to eliminate the annoyance of cab operators soliciting business on the platform during train time.

KILLED BY FUMES FROM STILL

Ironton, O., Nov. 23.—Thomas Deere, 60, and son Raymond, 21, were found dead in a cave 150 feet from its entrance, in the hills near here. A still they were operating was running moonshine when Coroner Gannon and Sheriff Demont entered the cave. Coroner Gannon says fumes from the still caused their death. The elder Deere leaves a wife and six children.

Physical Health means Beauty!

HEALTH and beauty go hand in hand. Where the system is run down—the face drawn and haggard—the body limp and lifeless—beauty is missing. Looks of pity supplant those that might have been gazes of admiration.

Restore your health and beauty will take care of herself. S. S. S.—the rich blood builder—rekindles the spark of health and lights the blaze of beauty by building red blood cells. The nerve power of your system finds life in these very blood cells. Build more red blood cells and your nerve power will increase. S. S. S. builds them. Rich blood will tingle through your system. That lost charm will return. Your entire system will be repaired. You will be ready to cope with the impurities and blemishes that handicap beauty.

As physical health means beauty so, too, does S. S. S. mean beauty. For S. S. S. means systems that are free from impurities—pimples, blackheads, acne, boils, eczema, rheumatism. S. S. S. and good health go hand in hand.

S. S. S. is made of pure vegetable ingredients. It is sold at all good drug stores. The large size bottle is more economical.

S.S.S. Makes You Feel Like Yourself Again

EAST END NEWS

Miss Margaret Watkins, ex-teacher, of East High School addressed the faculty and students of that school, Wednesday.

She spoke of the large number of negroes, migrating north, annually. Referring to their progress she made numerous citations of their achievements in every profession, industry and business but gave assurance the supply was not yet as great as the demand and the same opportunity was open to all who desires success.

The public is invited to attend a Thanksgiving program in the East High Auditorium Friday night at 7:30 o'clock. The students of the Sophomore class are working hard to make this program a success. The main feature will be an attractive playlet entitled "A Dream of Thanksgiving."

FIRE DEPARTMENT CALLED

Smoke filling the corridor of the second floor of the Gazette Building at ten o'clock Friday morning led to the Fire Department being called there. Firemen believe soot burning in the flues caused the volume of smoke which found its way out from window casings and through floors. Loss was confined to damage necessary in the attempt to locate the fire.

COUNTY OWES CITY $423.90 AUDITOR TELLS COMMISSION

Xenia City still has $423.90 coming to it from the income from the old Xenia Work House property, abandoned as a penal institution some time ago and recently sold, according to a report made to the City Commission Thursday night by T. H. Zell, city auditor.

The report showed the sum of $847.80, representing income from rentals, is still in the joint treasury, and that the city is entitled to one-half this sum and the county to the other half, as the joint owner with the city in the property before its sale.

City Auditor Zell said the sum due the city should be transferred from the Work House Fund to the general fund and that he should be given authority to make the transfer and to make settlement with the county commissioners. A resolution giving such authority was prepared by City Solicitor J. A. Finney but withheld until the next meeting of the Commission.

Action was delayed because City Auditor Zell called the attention of commissioners to a finding returned against the county by a state examiner of the city books in 1920, showing the county owed the city $139 for election expenses when the city paid for the rental of election booths and the manufacture of a number of new ballot boxes which should have been paid for by the county.

City Manager S. O. Hale was instructed to investigate the finding and take it up with county officials and the distribution of the joint fund will be held up pending settlement.

H. E. DICKMAN DIES THURSDAY EVENING

Hall E. Dickman, 69, died at his home on Glen Street, Yellow Springs, Thursday night at 10:30 o'clock, from a two weeks' illness of gastritis.

Mr. Dickman had resided in Yellow Springs for the past eight years, moving there from Osborn. He is survived by his wife and one brother, Fred Dickman of New Carlisle, Ohio.

Mr. Dickman was a member of the Presbytery Church of Yellow Springs. The Knights of Pythias Lodge of Springfield, and the Mystic Lodge, F. and A. M. of Dayton.

Funeral services will be held from the late home, Saturday afternoon at two o'clock, with interment at Fairfield.

WARNS OF DANGER IN GETTING "MAD"

If you get good and mad you can generate enough poison in your system to kill a pig, stated Rev. Edward Berger, Thursday night at the First M.
E. Church in his lecture on "Re-educating Your Personality."
He told how Dr. Gates, formerly of the Smithsonian Institute of Washington, collected and bottled forty samples of different poisons obtained from he perspiration and glands of people under emotional strain such as anger, fear and hate. These being reduced to a powder and then fed to a guinea pig, the latter died within a short time. "That is what we do to ourselves," said the speaker, "in losing our tempers; we set free in our bodies highly poisonous secretions, hence headaches, nausea, and other physiological disturbances."
"The center of it all habit is the subconscious, for a habit is always due to the persistence of a mental image,
good or bad," said the lecturer.
"While the cause is mental, every habit has finally a physiological effect."

The topic Friday night at eight o'clock is "Making Your Own Psycho-
Analysis or Unscrambling Your Past."
All lectures are free except on Friday night, when there is an admission
charge of fifty cents.

In Hot Water Bottles Demand Proof of Quality

We always talk quality in rubber goods for the very simple reason that nothing else counts except quality. Cost means nothing if the bag is poor and does not last. Quality means everything because it guarantees long life. Price is always considered equal with the value of the article for usage. Small bags, big bags, everything in hot

RAILROAD SEEKS COURT ORDER TO PRESERVE CONTRACT

A taxicab war that has been rumbling for several weeks burst forth in the courts Friday when The Pennsylvania Railroad Company filed injunction suits against Daniel Donovan, operator of the Yellow Cab Company and Charles Cunningham, operator of a private taxi line, in Common Pleas Courts.

Both actions seek to restrain the defendants from driving their taxicabs up to the Pennsylvania Railroad station platform on what the railroads claim to be private grounds unless they are delivering passengers or baggage at the depot or calling for passengers or baggage under a previous arrangement. A temporary restraining order asked for had not been granted Friday afternoon.

The petitions are identical. The plaintiff alleges it maintains private grounds around the passenger station here, as a means of ingress and egress for patrons and passengers. The plaintiff further alleges that on October 1, 1923, the plaintiff entered into a contract with Curtis Hale, in consideration of money from Hale and his agreement to abide by certain rules and conditions to be promulgated by the plaintiff, whereby Hale was granted the sole and exclusive right to enter upon the station grounds to solicit business and incoming passengers for taxi and baggage service.

The contract, the petition alleges, provides that others may enter upon the grounds for the purpose of delivering or receiving patrons or baggage when such service has been previously arranged for but that the plaintiff is obligated by the contract to prohibit other persons than Hale from entering the grounds except when previous arrangements are made. The petition declares the defendant in each action has persisted in coming onto the private grounds when not requested to by passengers, to the damage of Hale.

The company asks an injunction restricting the rights of other carriers to the obligations of the contract, and for permanent injunction on the final hearing and for a temporary restraining order. The actions were signed by I. T. Emery, passenger agent, and were filed by Matthews and Matthews, attorneys for the plaintiff.

The petitions following on the heels of the contract are said to be the result of disputes over depot rights, which terminated in the contract made known several weeks ago. If the temporary restraining order is allowed, taxi cabs operated by Cunningham and the Yellow Cab Company will have to park at the foot of the depot entrance hill on South Detroit street and await there to solicit passengers.

WASHINGTON HIGH CANCELS GRID GAME ENDING 1923 SEASON

Cancellation by Washington school authorities of the scheduled Washington C. H.--Xenia Central High School football game to have been played in Washington Friday afternoon brought a premature and unexpected end to the blue and white gridiron campaign of 1923.

Washington authorities notified Business Manager John R. Beacham Thursday afternoon that owing to an epidemic of scarlet fever rampant in Washington, health authorities advised against playing a game. Washington schools are closed and health officials did not believe it would be wise to suffer the gathering of a crowd in that city while the disease is liable to spread.

Because it was afraid members of the Washington football team might carry the disease here, the Washington authorities also turned down an offer to play the game in this city. As a result of the last minute cancellation, Washington will have to pay Xenia a forfeit under the rules of the Ohio High School Athletic Association. The forfeit will even things between the schools as Xenia paid Washington a forfeit for a similar cancellation several years ago.

Business Manager Beacham attempted to book games either here or away from home with Hillsboro, West Milton and Arcanum without results. None of these teams have games booked for today but all were unwilling to help Xenia fill its open date. As a result of the failure to get a game, Coach

Capt. Carney and Capt. Mulligan, of the United States Military Academy eleven, will lead his strong team to New York on November 24 for the annual game against the Annapolis eleven, headed by Captain Carney.

Earl Burgner ordered players to turn in their uniforms and the season was officially declared dead. A photograph of the team in uniform was taken Thursday evening. The team won one game, tied one and lost six during the season just closed.

EXPRESS COMPANY EMPLOYEES OF CITY BANQUET ON FRIDAY

One of the largest of the series of meetings held by employees of the American Railway Express Company over the country during the past three years, was held by the employees of the Xenia headquarters, at the I. O. O. F. Hall, Thursday night. After a rabbit dinner served by a group of women and a "right meeting" for the purpose of educating the employees to give the better kind of service, better methods of handling, and to lessen the loss and damage in freight traffic was held. Covers were laid for forty-five employees of the company, patrons, and officials.

Talks on the methods of improving the company's service were given by Superintendent C. F. Barrett, superintendent of the Southwestern Ohio division, with headquarters at Cincinnati; route agents, H. B. Grosch, Columbus headquarters, and G. A. Curry, Chillicothe headquarters; William Frie, general agent at Dayton; M. G. Stimmel, general agent of Springfield; F. J. Pope, New Castle, Indiana, agent; W. B. Tooker, Washington, C. H. agent, and Mr. Tooker's cashier, Mr. Armstrong; W. T. Whitington, Cedarville agent, and Mr. Phillips Yellow Springs company clerk. Mr. Wilson, traffic manager of the Sunlight Creamery Company at Washington, C. H. also talked. Mr. Frie, general agent of Dayton, gave an interesting talk on the career of C. A. Taylor, president of the company, who died suddenly Sunday. Mr. Taylor rose from clerk to president of the company.

W. Lambert, messenger between Columbus and Cincinnati, was a guest at the affair.

The meeting was opened by L. L. Jordan, Xenia agent. The program was presided over by J. A. Hoban, route agent, this city.

Patrons of the company present at the dinner and program included Allen Haines, of the Katz and Richards Clothing Store; C. P. Yowler of the Yowler Fish market; and William Marshall, Cedarville poultry man.

The women who assisted in serving the dinner were Mrs. Ray McElfresh, Mrs. Harley Hickman, Miss Lucia Jenner, Miss Mildred Banker, and Miss Mary Katherine Jordan.

Piano solos and duets, were played by the Misses Iva and Edna Laycock, and Mrs. Zella Betsch.

NINE THOUSAND ARE INVITED TO WEDDING

New York, Nov. 23.—The largest colored wedding ever held in this country will take place Saturday, when Miss Mae Walker Robinson, daughter of Mrs. Amelia Walker Robinson, becomes the bride of Dr. Henry Gordon Jackson of Chicago. Nine thousand invitations have been issued.

Miss Robinson is the granddaughter of Mrs. C. J. Walker, who is said to have made $1,000,000 through the sale of a preparation which she professed took the kink out of the hair of negroes.

The ceremony will take place at St. Philip's Episcopal church and will be performed by Father Hutchins Bishop, assisted by the Rev. Shelton Bishop. In the afternoon there will be a reception at Villa Lewaro, the home of the bride's mother at Irvington-on-Hudson. J. B. Ransom of Indianapolis, will give the bride in marriage.

The bride's family has announced that the entire trousseau was made by and purchased from colored people.

FOR COLDS, GRIP OR INFLUENZA and as a preventive, take Laxative BROMO QUININE Tablets. The box bears the signature of E. W. Grove, 30c.

FARM AT AUCTION

On Saturday, December 15, at 10 o'clock A. M. the Sheriff will sell at the Court House at Xenia, Ohio, the farm where James J. Marshall lives, located just north of Upper Bellbrook Pike and east of little Miami river. It contains about 118 acres. John Harbine, Allen Building, Telephone.

GENERAL REDUCTION IN TAXES FAVORED BY NEW ARRIVALS

Washington, Nov. 23.—Progressive senators arriving here for the opening of congress lined up solidly behind the proposals for general tax reduction, with special stress upon the taxes of the "little fellow," and also for immediate enactment of the soldier bonus.

The new arrivals were: Senators Ralph B. Howell, Progressive-Republican, Nebraska; Henry K. Shipstead, Farmer-Labor, Minnesota; and Burton J. Wheeler, Democratic Progressive, Montana. All declared their intention to fight for general tax reduction and to support the bonus bill.

Senator Howell said he has been studying the Mellon proposal, but has not reached a conclusion upon it. As to the general plan of reducing the taxes, he declared it would have his support, and that the bonus measure also would get his vote.

Senator Wheeler said: "I am not in favor of cutting down the surtaxes on the larger incomes alone. Rather than support such a plan I would propose reducing taxes on the smaller incomes and allowing the other taxes to remain. But I am absolutely in favor of cutting the taxes wherever possible and of reducing government expenses in every direction. I favor immediate passage of the bonus bill. It should be paid out of the tremendous amount of money made by profiteers during the war."

Senator Shipstead holds similar views on the bonus and tax reduction plans. Discussing the Mellon plan, he said: "I believe some of Secretary Mellon's figures are wrong and that if his plan were accepted there still would be enough money to defray the costs of the bonus. I am not convinced Secretary Mellon is right in declaring the high taxes are non-revenue producing."

Senator Norris of Nebraska, chairman of the progressive bloc to which Senator La Follette belongs, summed up his position as follows: "I am in favor of lowering the tax burden on the man who has a small income and increasing the burden on the man who has a large income. This is all I am thinking of in the matter of the Mellon plan or any other plan that is suggested for dealing with the tax problem."

Support of the Mellon plan came from the Democratic side in a statement by Senator William Cabell Bruce, recently elected in Maryland, who declared himself willing to support the plan exactly as proposed.

GAS CONSUMERS OF CITY TO PAY FIFTY CENT EXTRA CHARGE

Gas bills of Xenia City patrons of The Ohio Fuel Gas Company will be increased with the passage of an ordinance by the City Commission, Thursday night, providing for the addition of a 50 cent service charge to all consumers.

Passage of the ordinance ended a controversy in the Commission since the ordinance was first introduced in August and was effected after commissioners were led to believe that failure to allow the service charge might impair the gas supply this winter and lead to a rate increase fight before the Public Utilities Commission.

The new ordinance, introduced sometime ago by J. F. Curry, Pittsburgh representative The Ohio Fuel Gas Company, does not change the present rate of 50 cents gross, with a five cent discount if the bill is paid within ten days. The service charge of 50 cents flat is added, it is said, to defray extra costs in experimenting and furnishing gas and taking care of small accounts and will be added to the charge for the first 1,000 feet, making the first 1,000 feet of gas 95 cents net.

Mr. Curry again urged passage of the ordinance at Thursday night's meeting. Commissioners voted to table the ordinance several weeks ago after repeated discussion had failed to disclose a means of avoiding the extra charge. The Commission hoped that one of the cities served by the company would carry the fight to the Utilities Commission and result in a decision from that body. According to the gas company's representative, however, all cities are passing the ordinance as fast as it is presented. Commissioners believe an appeal to the Utilities Commission would not only be fruitless, but that it would lead the company to obtain an entire increase of rate based on charges in other cities. They also expressed themselves as believing the company could easily circumvent the authority of the Utilities Commission to bring about a forced passage of the ordinance.

City Solicitor J. A. Finney attacked the value of the Public Utilities Commission in commenting on the proposed ordinance Thursday night. He interpreted the statements of Mr. Curry that he "didn't know what would happen to Xenia if the ordinance was not passed" as an admission of knowledge that the Utilities Commission would be ineffectual in attempting to carry out the order against discrimination.

Due to the fact that the gas company cannot now say what the condition of the gas market will be in another year and what expense will be necessary in acquiring new wells, the ordinance makes the new charge effective for only one year. Other cities, some of which passed a similar ordinance last spring, will possibly have to face a new ordinance next spring, it is said. Xenia's ordinance, effective in 30 days, will assure the new rate for the year 1924. Mr. Curry, however, reminded the commission that Xenia had never had to complain of its gas service, that it has always been

Convalescent after a protracted illness, Dr. W. O. Thompson, president of the Ohio State University, who is general chairman of the 1923 Christmas Seal Sale for Ohio, has written the following appeal to all men and women in Ohio engaged in promoting the sixteenth annual sale of Christmas seals.

"This year brings the sixteenth annual sale of Christmas seals in the war upon tuberculosis. The response of the public in past years is your assurance of a welcome in this campaign.

"The decrease in the death rate in Ohio from 150 per hundred thousand people to 85 per hundred thousand last year is the highest justification of the work already done. To continue this work is the cheapest form of combatting this most dreaded disease of civilization."

Mrs. C. L. Babb, of South King St., is chairman of the Greene County Seal Sale Drive, which is held under the auspices of the Social Service League. Mrs. Babb has enlisted a corps of workers to assist her in the campaign, which starts, December 1, and lasts through the holidays.

McClelland Neighborhood
Vance Gage left Friday for Ft. Wayne, Ind., where he will be employed in the Pennsylvania shops.

Some miscreants entered the McPherson school house and carried off considerable school property. It is to be hoped they will be apprehended as destruction and theft of school property is a serious offense.

Carl Walker, of Xenia, an ex-service man, has been appointed mail carrier on route 4. Lew Troy has been substituted on this route since resignation of Vernon Hampton.

McPherson school is planning a Thanksgiving entertainment and social to be given Tuesday evening, Nov. 27 at Glad Community Hall. A small admission fee will be charged but refreshments of pie, sandwiches and coffee will be free. The money will go toward the Victrola fund. You are invited.

Miss Mildred McCall is convalescing satisfactorily from an appendicitis operation which she underwent last week. She will resume her school work in the U. P. Mission as soon as she is able. Dr. McCampbell, formerly of Xenia is stationed at this mission as pastor.

IMPROVEMENT OF STREET ASSURED
Legislation that assures the improvement of Kennedy St., from Washington St. to Cottage Grove Ave., in the Orient Hill section known as "Deweyville," was passed by the City Commission Thursday night.

The legislation included an ordinance to proceed with improvement of the street from Washington Street to Cottage Grove Avenue with a combined curb and gutter and an 18 feet gravelled roadway, in accordance with a resolution passed by the Commission, Oct. 11, 1922 and to assess the cost against the property owners.

Another ordinance provided for the issuance of bonds in the sum of $4500 to pay for the improvement in anticipation of special assessments to be collected from the property owners. The bonds are to be in denominations of $500 each and to run ten years, at 5 1/2 per cent interest.

Rules were suspended in the case of each ordinance, and the legislation passed upon its first reading, making it effective immediately.

THE CRUELTY OF WEAKNESS

As Lee looked into Hugh Green's pale face he knew at once that he could feel nothing but pity for him. He had thought, if he ever came face to face with this man who was making such a living hell of Hope's existence, it would be hard to keep from thrashing him. Now as he looked into Hugh's dull eyes and delicate face he felt instinctively what it was that held Hope.

Hugh Green's face held everything that a woman might love, and a man admire, except strength of purpose. One had the impression looking at him that his possibilities might be boundless. His features were classic. Then suddenly as you looked at his burned out eyes and weak mouth, you knew that the spark of his manhood had slipped out somehow, and that what you saw was only the delicate shell of a man.

Lee stood ill at ease with his tweed cap in one hand and the other extended to Green. He felt a sudden desire to rouse him if possible and make him return to friendliness. But Hugh's hand hesitated, and then touched Lee's reluctantly. It was soft and limp like the hand of a woman.

"How far am I from the other end of the lake?" Lee interrogated, directing his question to Hugh. "I am trying to figure which way around would bring me back the quickest."

But it was Hope that answered, and as Lee turned to her he thought he detected just the lightest quaver in her voice.

"It's nearly three miles back on this side, and you—you'd find it much worse travelling around the other

"I'll bet that's the first three miles I've walked in two years," Lee declared laughingly. "Guess I'd better get started back if I want to make it tonight."

"It will get dark quickly now," Hope suggested, and then added hesitatingly. "If you would care to come up to the cabin, Hugh would be glad to lend you the canoe to go back in. Our little camp is just a step from here."

"Thanks—for the offer—but I guess I'll hustle on. The walk will do me good."

He saw that Hope had also noticed Hugh's combative manner, and he had the sudden impression that she resented it, and was determined to have her way.

"There is no use in your doing that, really. It would be dark before you reached the end of the lake. Come! You can return the canoe in the morning."

Something in Hope's voice made Lee change his mind. It held that same appealing note which had gripped him the first time they had spoken together.

"Thanks—Green! If you don't object," Lee said, turning toward Hugh, but Hugh's silent, sullen manner made him turn to Hope again. "I guess you'll have to lead the way. I'd have us all lost in a jiffy."

When they reached the little cabin way, she warned.

Hugh spoke for the first time.

"I'll take Mr. Brown down in the canoe. Then he won't have to bother returning it in the morning."

Lee thanked him, but he knew why he had offered. He knew that it was not through courtesy, but because

Green did not intend that he should have any excuse for returning in the morning. He watched Hope's face.

"But—are you equal to it, Hugh?" she suggested softly. "You'll have to paddle back alone, and the wind is pretty strong."

Lee turned away, and walked down to the shore of the little lake. Yet Hope's voice came to him distinctly, and he had the conviction that he would always be able to hear its low, vibrating tones no matter how great a distance lay between them.

"Please, dear! You're not strong enough. Let me go with you then?" She pleaded. "I can help you paddle back."

"Not I'm going," he answered, with an abrupt finality.

It seemed to Lee, standing there waiting below them, that Hugh was taking a heartless sort of pleasure in resisting his wife's concern for him, and that he enjoyed her anxiety. And he began to feel that desire to thrash Hugh Green in spite of the man's weakness and pathetic condition.
